National Coin Week Tempo Accelerates Across Country

It'll be "September in Paris" instead of April for participants in the Coin Tour — 24 days in Europe under the direction of a numismatic "Mr. Cook," Hans M. F. Schulman. Travelers will have an opportunity to see the best in Europe including Paris' Notre Dame cathedral rising here in splendor. Deadline for making reservations for the September 3-28 tour is April 30. (Full details and schedule of the tour are to be found on Pages 46-47 of the March 23 edition of Coin World.)

Big Plans Underway For April 23 - 30

Additional materials are being mailed to American Numismatic Association-affiliated coin clubs throughout the United States by the score each day, Dolly-Maude Harris, general chairman of the National Coin Week, April 23-30, 1961, said today from her Austin, Texas, headquarters.

More than 600 A.N.A. clubs received application forms and display cards for National Coin Week participation in February, one of the earliest mailing dates in history, Chairman Harris disclosed.

See Page 24 For Coin World's Special National Coin Week Section.

Now the enthusiasm is running high, she pointed out, as clubs apply for more display material. Some of the requests have come from overseas, she said; others from libraries, service clubs and other non-numismatic groups who wish to pay tribute to the National Coin Week.

Chairman Harris reminded clubs the deadline for mailing entries will be May 25, 1961. All entries are to be sent to Tom McCrummen Jr., Awards Chairman, P. O. Box 139, Austin, Texas.

"Consult the back of your official entry blank for the point system," advised Mrs. Harris, who said she would be glad to furnish any A.N.A. club with entry blanks by return mail.

Trader Sam Hero; Helps Capture Thief

Sam Frudakis, 45, proprietor of Trader Sam's, Long Beach, Calif., and Larry Medsker, 45, a broker, are heroes in their home town today.

The pair chased an armed robbery suspect through the streets and back alleys in downtown Long Beach March 22 and captured their quarry on a parking lot of a hotel.

Frudakis and Larry Medsker disarmed the hold up suspect, Charles Lloyd Hoffman, 31, and recovered $2,500 in stolen cash and jewelry.

Hoffman, according to police, held up a jeweler, Ivanhoe R. Gulliksen, 69, shortly before noon.

When Hoffman fled, said police, Gulliksen ran out onto the sidewalk screaming "Robbery!"

Frudakis, in his coin shop at 30 Long Beach Blvd., and a customer, Medsker, answered the shouts and gave chase to Hoffman, who was running up the sidewalk.

Frudakis and Medsker made the capture three blocks away. There were no shots fired, police said.

Hoffman was booked on suspicion of robbery. He has served prison terms in San Quentin in 1951 for forgery and 1954 for narcotics possession, police said.

Wisconsin Club Gives Library Books

The Paper Cities Coin Club of Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., has recently given three numismatic books to the T.B. Scott public library in Wisconsin Rapids, so that the public may have up-to-date information on coin collecting. Club president Thomas Sanford made the presentation.

Persons interested in coin collecting are invited to attend the club's meetings, held the second and fourth Wednesday evenings at 7:30 p.m., at the "Y" at Port Edwards. Next session is slated for April 12.

Schulman Tour To Go Jet; New Deadline Date April 30

Hans Schulman, New York City, announced today that his Coin Tour in September will fly to and from Europe in a jet airliner in place of the conventional aircraft previously scheduled.

"The departure date will be Sunday, September 3, instead of Monday, September 4," said Schulman, "to accommodate the jet plane's schedule."

There is no change in the costs to the collector or dealer taking the trip, said Schulman, who sought to make the change because of the many requests for a faster flight.

K. L. M. Royal Dutch Airlines will make the flight; the jet airliner accommodates 80 passengers.

Nineteen American numismatists have confirmed their intention of taking the tour after the first announcement in Coin World March 16. Schulman stated he was confident there were hundreds of people who would like to take the tour but only the first 80 applications could be certain of a seat on the plane.

The deadline for filing applications to take the Coin Tour to Europe has been extended from April 15 to April 30, according to Schulman.

Application forms for the Coin Tour may be obtained from Hans Schulman, 545 Fifth Avenue, New York 17, New York. Complete details plus the application blank were printed in the March 16 and March 23 issues of Coin World.

New Jersey Dealer Files Lawsuit To Get New Coins

Fred Johnson, Camden, N. J., coin dealer, needs new coins in his business, and he's willing to go to court in an attempt to get them!

A lawsuit, naming the First Camden National Bank and Trust Co. and the Camden Trust Co., of Camden, N. J., as defendants, was filed by the dealer in Camden county Superior Court March 24.

Johnson maintains in his legal action that the banks "have a duty coupled with and affected by a public interest and duty to distribute.... new unissued and uncirculated coins fairly and impartially.... in accordance with the reasonable requests and demands of persons requesting same.... to members of the general public who have a legitimate interest..."

The dealer maintains that as a result of the "repeated and deliberate refusals" of the banks, he has been "gravely restricted in the continued operation of his business."

Johnson said he has suffered "irreparable damage and injury" to his business, and will continue to do so unless he is supplied with new unissued and uncirculated coins.

He asks that the banks be restrained from refusing and denying him a reasonable amount of the uncirculated coins—and that if they do not have the new coins, they should obtain them from the Federal Reserve Banks.

Other requests in the court action by Johnson include a demand that the defendant banks supply him with its records and inventory of any new coins on hand, and that the banks should keep records of receipts and disbursements to each customer by name—and that these records be readily available for inspection.

He also seeks a sum which "reasonably compensates" him for his loss resulting from "the continued and deliberate refusals of the banks to his demands for new unissued and uncirculated coin."

Johnson's complaint, directed by his attorney, Antonio F. Doganiero, of Camden, disclosed that his business needs a constant and continuous source of new coins.

Distribution of the new coins, from the United States Mint through the Federal Reserve system and the Federal Reserve banks, down to the member banks, was traced in the action.

It pointed out that since Johnson was refused new coin from the Federal Reserve Banks directly, the member banks are the exclusive sources—hence their involvement in the legal action.

Today's Chuckle

"We almost found a new rarity—a 1961-D cent with the mint mark over the date. Upon further examination, we found that Lincoln's head was upside-down. Upon closer examination, we discovered we were holding the coin upside-down!" (From Arkansas Numismatic Society News Letter).

Worker At Museum Sends Second Series

(Editor's Note: Arkadi Luppel, Moscow numismatist, has once again forwarded new material and new photographs to Coin World through the press department of the Embassy of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics in Washington. Luppel's earlier writings on Soviet medallie art for Coin World appeared in August 25 and September 1, 1960, editions.)

By Arkadi Luppel,
Scientific Worker,
Numismatics Department
Moscow State Museum of History

Soviet power, emerging victorious in the October Socialist Revolution of 1917, inherited a ruined monetary system from old Russia. Since 1916 monetary circulation consisted entirely of paper currency. The Soviet government immediately took a number of measures to stabilize the currency. However, it was able to continue with it only after the end of the civil war and the routing of both the internal and foreign enemies of the young Soviet republic.

In 1921 the government adopted a decision to mint silver coins, and they were put into circulation in addition to Soviet paper currency. The silver was alloyed with red copper.

The one-ruble and 50-kopek denominations bore on the obverse side the emblem of the Russian Soviet Federative Socialist Republic (RSFSR) enframed by the motto, "Workers of the World Unite!"

The reverse side showed a five-cornered star in relief, in the center of which stood the respective figures one or 50 in a deepened circle. The date "1921" was below the star, while the star itself was bordered by a laurel and oak wreath. On the top was the inscription "ruble" or "50 kopeks" (See illustration, Coin Nos. 2 and 3).

The diameter of the ruble was 34mm., fineness 90, weight-20 grams, and the inscription on the coin's edge: "2 zolotniks (1/96 of the Russian pound, or slightly over 4 grams) of pure silver, ratio 21 (A. inverted)." The letters "A. inverted L." stood for A. Gartman, the Mint Director. The diameter of the 50-kopek piece was 27 mm., fineness-90, weight-10 grams. Inscription on the edge: "2 zolotniks pure silver, ratio 10.5 (A. inverted L)."

The 20, 15 and 10-kopek coins bore on the obverse side the emblem of the RSFSR. On the reverse side a figure denoted the face value (20, 15 or 10), under which stood the word "kopeks" and still lower the date "1921."

All this was enframed by a laurel and oak wreath, between whose ends at the top a radiant five-corner star stood (see illustration, coins Nos. 4, 5 and 6). The diameter of the coins was 22, 20 and 17 mm. respectively, fineness-50, the weight respectively 3.6 grams, 2.7 grams and 1.8 grams, with a corrugated edge. The coins were cast at the Mint in Leningrad.

The rapid restoration of the national economy, the strengthening of the country's finances, and then the complete liquidation of the budgetary debt made it possible to carry out a reform in 1922-24 which marked the beginning of a stable Soviet monetary system.

At the end of 1922 the first banknotes—chervontsi—came into circulation, and in 1924, treasury notes.

Simultaneously with the issue of chervontsi it was decided to put out gold coins of the same denomination. The golden chervontsi issued in 1923 carried on the obverse side the state emblem of the republic, and on the reverse side—a peasant sower in relief.

On the left, factory buildings are seen, and on the right, a plough. The date "1923" shows at the edge of the coin on the left; and on top in a circle is the inscription "one chervontsi" (see Coin No. 1).

The diameter of the chervontsi is 22.6 mm., weight—8.6 grams, the inscription on the edge "one zolotnik pure silver, ratio 78.24. The letters on the coin stood for P. Latyshev, Chief of the Mint. By the end of 1923 the paper chervontsi pushed the gold coin out of payments and there was no longer any need of a gold coin.

The monetary reform was completed in 1924 by the issue of treasury notes in denominations of one, three and five rubles in gold. Also a new silver bank coin of one ruble and 50 kopeks, silver change in 20, 15 and 10 kopeks, and coppers of five, three, two and one kopek. The size, fineness, weight, the edge and remedy of the silver coins were not changed. The diameter of the copper coins were: For five kopek coins—32 mm., three kopeks—27.7 mm., two kopeks—24 mm., and one kopek—21.3 mm.

In 1932 the Soviet republics united into a single federative state: the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics (USSR). So the one-ruble coin had on the obverse side the state emblem of the Soviet Union, on both sides of which were the inscription "U.S.S.R." On the flank in two lines was the inscription "one ruble." Along the circumference was the motto: "Workers of the World Unite!" On the reverse side: a peasant with his right hand on a saw, while holding the sickle in the left. Beside him is a worker, embracing him with his right hand, while pointing with his left to the factory building over which the sun rises. The device symbolized the union of the working class with the peasantry, industrialization and the imminent mechanization of agriculture.

Below it bore the date "1924" (see Coin No. 7). The inscription on the coin's edge: "18 grams pure silver four zolotniks, ratio 21 /" with the mint chief's initials.

The 50-kopek piece had the same obverse side as the ruble, but with the inscription "one half-ruble" under the state emblem. The reverse side bore the device of a worker beating the anvil with a hammer over which a cluster of sparks rise. Behind the worker is a plough, with a gear wheel between his foot and the anvil. Below is the date "1924". (see Fig. 1, No. 8). The inscription on the edge: nine grams of pure silver (2 zolotniks, ratio 10.5) (Mint chief's initials)."

Illustrations for Coins of the Soviet Union. (AV is a symbol for gold; AR, silver).

The silver and copper change differed only in diameter and the figure showing the face values.

The obverse side bore the state emblem of the USSR enframed by the motto: "Workers of the World Unite!" On the reverse side, the face value in figures was given at the top, below it the word "kopeks" and still lower the date "1924." The inscriptions were enframed by two spikes (see illustration, Nos. 9, 10 and 11).

Laotian Currency Presents Study

Laotian currency is a combination of geography and social science with its depiction of life in the southeastern Asia monarchy which stands so starkly in the glare of the news spotlight today. Currency shows agriculture, pretty girls, famous landmarks, leaders and always the artistic bent of the people. Newest note (top illustration) is the 500 kip note (U.S. $1 equals 80 kips). The note is 170 by 85 mm. in size, with a tricephalic elephant and parasol with seven tiers. Dominant colors are red, yellow, blue and green (face) with mauve, yellow and light blue for the back. Other Laotian notes shown here to illustrate typical currency of the country include the one (back), five (back), 10 (face and back), 20 (face and back) and 50 (back) kip notes, and the 10 (back) and 100 (face and back) piastres.

newspapers and other media of National Coin Week and what you will be doing to promote it," urged the vivacious leader of the 1961 campaign.

"Coins and Currency of Yesterday," the theme of 1961 National Coin Week lends itself to anyone's idea of how, what and when to make displays, do talks and show off the hobby, the Texas chairman pointed out.

"I feel that you will not be limited in any capacity," she said. "I think of how proud some of the juniors will be to display their mite."

Reports are usually made up in scrapbook or loose-leaf form, the chairman said. She announced winning entries and plaques will be exhibited during the A.N.A. convention in Atlanta August 16-19.

Johnson Suit . . .

Other excerpts from the suit continue:

"New unissued and uncirculated coin has an intrinsic value over and above the face amount of the same particular unit of currency that it represents.

"New unissued and uncirculated coins 'in specie' represents a collector value to the coin enthusiast and as such is the prime source of supply for the plaintiff's business.

"On many and numerous occasions the plaintiff has requested of these defendants that they make available to him new unissued and uncirculated coin in exchange for United States currency or legal tender.

"The defendants, on occasions, have honored the plaintiff's demands for new unissued and uncirculated coin and have exchanged same for an equivalent amount of United States currency or legal tender.

"The defendants presently wrongfully and discriminatorily refuse to exchange new unissued and uncirculated coin upon demand by this plaintiff in return for an equivalent amount of United States . . . legal tender, contrary to its duty so to exchange same and that the plaintiff is ready and able to pay any reasonable bank service charges for meeting this reasonable request and demand for such said coin."

Red Cross To Benefit From Auction

The 327th meeting of the New Jersey Numismatic Society of Newark, scheduled for Thursday, April 13, at the Military Park Hotel in Newark, at 8 p.m., will feature a donation auction for the benefit of the Red Cross, according to a report from the secretary, James A. Brown.

At the March session, members heard Harvey J. Hoffer speak on his specialty, ancient coins, with emphasis on Hadrian.

Much of the ancient art of Rome which exists today results from the accomplishments of this emperor, the speaker said. Because of his extensive travels, many Roman satellite countries issued coins to Hadrian as a compliment, which is why his bust is seen on the coinage of so many different countries, according to Hoffer.

Hoffer's talk was well documented and illustrated with many nice examples of the various series, evidence of the research and study Hoffer has undertaken for the better understanding of his collection, Brown reported.

Northwest Iowa Club Organized

The Northwest Iowa Coin Club held its first fully-organized meeting recently at the Club Cafe, Eagle Grove, Iowa, at 7:30 p.m.

The newly-formed club held two prior organizational meetings. Officers are: Howard Lockwood, president; Phil Thurtle, vice-president, and Leland Knack, secretary. Lockwood indicated that the meetings will be held primarily for the purpose of discussing, trading and selling coins.

Large Attendance Problem?

Large coin clubs have a problem. As their membership increases, their ratio of attendance falls off. This is due to the fact that a large coin club attracts both advanced and beginner collectors, and it is difficult to appeal to both at the same time.

Dick Johnson

The beginning coin collector is unconcerned with specialized exhibits and talks, while the advanced collector is bored with elementary matters that he has heard and seen many times before.

In the past, clubs have grown strictly on a geographical basis. In cities where no clubs existed one was formed. In time they grew. Some clubs now have over 200 members, a few over 300.

As the number of members approach 150 the problems increase. A large meeting place is needed, management of the club becomes unwieldy, maintaining order is difficult, but worst of all problems is that of the poor program chairman. With attendance of any meeting over 100 it becomes difficult for him to provide a stimulating meeting for both advanced and beginning collectors!

The beginning collector likes: auctions of low priced material; exhibits of all kinds; speeches on basic coin collecting; and lots of trading, buying, and selling.

The advanced collector likes: auctions of specialized material, sometimes more expensive; speeches and exhibits of a specialized interest; and he likes to take a more active part in the meetings which his knowledge and experience entitle him to.

While both beginner and advanced collector attend a coin club to be educated and entertained, it is difficult to do this while both are present.

The trend recently is to more coin clubs. In 1957 there were less than 300 clubs in existence; today the number approaches 950. The number of two and three club cities has increased. Cities with a large number of suburbs have found an increasing number of suburban coin clubs forming. However, this organization is still based on geographical location.

I would like to propose a startling new idea: to create coin clubs for different levels of collecting interest! The object should be to provide the most intellectually stimulating meeting for everyone who attends.

Each club should be open to all. The individual collector will be attracted to the one that more appeals to him. If he is a beginning collector, he will in time, specialize and grow into the more advanced club.

The dues for the general club should be low, the more advanced could be higher. The name of the general organization should be "coin club"; the more advanced could be "numismatic society".

The more coin clubs the better. But they should not be formed merely on a geographical basis. Let's see some clubs that appeal to the beginner, and some for the advanced collector!

National Coin Week Plans

Your National Coin Week plans should be crystalizing about now. The chairman, Dolly-Maude Harris, and her committee, have put a lot of hard work into the advanced stages. Now it is up to you, individual and club, to do your best in carrying out your plans.

Look forward to April 23 to 29 as a challenge—a challenge to tell more about coin collecting, and to sell more of your friends on being coin collectors. You know how much pleasure and profit you receive from the hobby, just tell your friends, and don't hide your enthusiasm!

Letters To The Editor

May I say that your Civil War Centennial edition is the most outstanding I have seen yet. Your paper is the most popular one of all here in Atlanta.

Reuben E. Jenkins
Atlanta, Ga.

I wish to compliment you on your Civil War issue. This will be a real collectors' item.

Leonard W. Stark
Chicago 2, Ill.

Please accept the sincere congratulations of our entire firm on a splendid series of articles and format dealing with the South and the Civil War. I am sure many of your readers will be genuinely stimulated by what they see and read.

I would like you to know that we have a permanent display in our retail showrooms here in New York of a complete set of both the Charlotte and Dahlonga gold coinage as issued with all varieties. I mention this solely because you indicate on page 60 that the Alexander collection was the only one believed to be in existence.

Response to my many advertisements has been terrific! Many wonderful people... I am pleased with the noticeably more sincere subscribers that Coin World has managed to secure.

Richard M. Muniz
West Hollywood, Fla.

Here's my subscription for another year... the best subscription in the numismatic field today! Not only does it add to your knowledge but it makes you appreciate being a coin collector because Coin World goes into all phases of it.

Joseph Pascale
Belmont, Mass.

My subscription expires six weeks from today. Here's my order. Like I say: 'Why wait to the last minute? I might miss an issue of Coin World.'

Glenn Garber
Syosset, N. Y.

All of us who love and enjoy the study and collecting of coins should feel greatly indebted to you for the splendid contribution that you have made to the wide and growing field of numismatics—in the founding of such an excellent news medium as Coin World and its continuing success and interest. It is indeed filling a long-felt need, and I, personally, am most grateful to you and your staff.

Mrs. Miriam M. Rogers
Atlanta, Ga.

Our recent ad in Coin World for '61 cents has brought us orders from almost half of the States including Hawaii. We are amazed and very pleased with the coverage your Coin World gives.

Many thanks.
Penn Coin Shop
Philadelphia, Pa.

Enclosed... you will find $3 to renew my subscription to Coin World for another year. It is the best paper ever, even to a small hobbyist like I am. I have bought a few coins through your paper and I have never lost a dime. I always send good old cash and I always get full value. I would like you to send a six-month subscription to the Provo Police Department, Provo, Utah.

They are all good friends of mine and I even had made collectors out of four of them. Not only that, but there is information about hold-ups and breakins that are only found in your newspaper that I am sure will be of interest to them.

Yours for a long-lived paper!
Keith S. Alger
Provo, Utah

I read your newspaper every week and enjoy it very much. Your Coin Trends are very useful. I like the cartoons and the Coin Test very much. Keep up the good work.

Michael Walters
Beardstown, Ill.

I should like to have my thanks on behalf of Carnegie Museum for the two fine stories which you have given us in Coin World. Not only did these give a well-deserved accolade to Jack Burns for his monograph on prison currencies, but much pleasant and valuable publicity to the museum.

It is good to be able to report that because of these articles the Museum has received a number of gifts of coins as well as many expressions of approval for our work. For all of this we are very grateful.

W. W. Woodside
Honorary Curator of Coins
Carnegie Museum
Pittsburgh, Pa.

You and your associates have done a magnificent job in bringing together so much interesting, important information in the March 23rd Civil War number of Coin World.

Great credit is due you for such a tremendous task so well done.... My congratulations to you and to your associates....

Philip H. Chase
Wynnewood, Pa.

Received your Coin World Thursday, March 23... very fine Civil War centennial features in this issue. Could not find any articles or reference to the Confederate Chemico Reverses. These backs for Confederate notes were printed in England but were never put in use. I have a set which consists of backs for $500, $100, $50, $20, $10 and $5 bills. They are in mint condition....

Maxwell Goldberg
Chicago, Ill.

On page 54 of the March 23 issue of Coin World I repeat the sentence: "Abe Curry was the first superintendent of the Carson City Mint, appointed in 1966."

Scott Wainwright
Chatham, N. J.

I enjoyed the excellent article in your March 23 issue on the history of the Confederate half dollar. I have in my possession a white metal restrike but in Eric P. Newman's article he does not tell of the distribution or number of electros or casts.

I purchased my example at a Chicago auction over 40 years ago and am interested in any information on it.

R. C. Garlick
Sharon, Pa.

Please send me an advertising contract. Your paper is bringing in approximately three times the business that my other two "major" publications do combined! Keep up the fine work!

Darwin B. Lee
Hardin, Ky.

While I am more of a stamp collector (60 years), I do so enjoy your paper and am becoming more interested in coins and more appreciative of the few hundred dollars worth in my collection than before I had access to Coin World.

Elmore J. Greening,
Austin, Texas

Your dignified and professional approach to all of the highly complex problems of theft, values, trends and other matters which have become of increasing concern to collectors in the past several years, will undoubtedly keep Coin World in the forefront of the best of our numismatic publications. It has been a real pleasure to have been among one of the first of your subscribers a year ago.

Capt. Kenneth C. Levin
Fort Ord, Calif.

I was taking five coin publications but since starting Coin World, I see no reason to take any other. Your publication is the finest I've ever seen.

Garvette Frye
Woodward, Okla.

We have now tried all six leading coin publications and while all have produced, none has approached Coin World, so we plan to advertise regularly. Nice customers, nice orders and lots of them. Our ad in Coin World produced by far the best results of them all.

Rochester Group To Honor Past President At Banquet

On Saturday, April 15, the Rochester Numismatic Association will hold its annual banquet to honor its past president of 1959-1960, Charles J. Ricard.

Ricard has served various offices of the club, and at the present is club historian. A charter member and officer of the Rochester Junior Numismatic Association, first member to ever hold the R.N.A. presidency, he is the R.N.A.'s youngest president.

He holds membership in the American Numismatic Association, E.S.N.A., Middle Atlantic Numismatic Association and the American Institute of Archaeology. His numismatic specialty is the medals and coinage of Napoleon Bonaparte and in addition he has a fine U. S. collection.

He is from a family of numismatists, his great grandfather, John C. Lighthouse, held A.N.A. membership No. 479 and was a member of the European Numismatic Societies.

His uncle, Charles N. Ricard, is past-president of the Cleveland Coin Club and member of A.N.A., Canadian Numismatic Association and other societies.

At present Ricard is an officer of the Central Trust Company and graduate and member of the American Institute of Banking and the National Society for Bank Audit, Control and Operation. He is a senior in the School of Business Administration at the University of Rochester.

versity of Rochester.

The banquet will be held at the Triton Party House, 1443 Main Street East, starting at 6:30 p.m.

Dancing will follow the dinner, which will be accompanied by music provided by Burdette Nash, acting co-master of ceremonies.

Rochester Numismatic Association was founded in January, 1912, and is in Branch 2 of the American Numismatic Association. The meetings are held at the Rochester Museum of Arts and Science on the first and third Tuesdays of each month except July and August.

The membership rolls have contained several prominent numismatists such as Dr. George French, first president and founder; B. Max Mehl; and George J. Bauer, third president of the R.N.A. and only living charter member.

Bauer also holds an honorary life membership. A past-president of the A.N.A., life member No. 4 and holder of its gold medal for over 50 years of membership, Bauer is considered an authority in the ancient field.

Charles W. Foster, the 23rd president, did years of research on U.S. coins and tokens and published a library reference on U.S. Commemorative Half Dollars. He also served as A.N.A. librarian.

Alphonse A. Kolb, 20th president of the R.N.A., an honorary life member, is famous for his medallic art achievements. He does the die work for the R.N.A. past presidents' medals and has created many convention badges, civic memorials and medals for special historical events.

The R.N.A. has been influential in the promotion of interest of younger boys through the efforts of the late E. F. Meinhart, 31st president, the founder of the R.J. N.A. The present membership of the R.N.A. is 118. The association has an extensive library and coin and medal collection, which is maintained by President Floyd B. Newell. The R.N.A. is making plans for the annual banquet to honor Ricard and for the golden anniversary celebration to be held in 1962.

CENTENNIAL

Knitter Currency Ill-Fated

A morale booster, a la Civil War, was Ellen St. John, southern matron, shown here knitting socks for Confederate soldiers—a picture that ended up on a threeped his cotton and that of other planters.

President Davis had this morale picture made and placed on the bills. One side of the plates had been printed when it was discovered that the Confederacy did not have enough money to back the three-dollar currency but did have enough for one-dollar notes.

Since paper was almost as rare as gold, it decided to print the dollar denominations on the back of the worthless three dollars, as positive an indication of a crumbling economy as anything could have been.

There was no Marshall Plan in Reconstruction times, but the opposite ruled with ruthlessness. The St. Johns were never paid for their great privately owned docks seized by the North, nor has any of the family.

dollar piece of currency with an unhappy ending.

According to Mrs. Ellen St. John Barnwell Motz, of Atlanta, her great-grandmother was honored by Jefferson Davis because her husband, Thomas, was one of Alabama powers during the Civil War.

The St. Johns owned a handsome home which was the center of Mobile society, as well as much land and the docks of the state's only seaport. From these he ship-

Civil War Club Theme

The Civil War will be the theme for exhibits and discussion at the next meeting on Thursday, April 6, of the Peninsula Coin Club of Palo Alto, Calif.

The meeting is scheduled to be held at the Palo Alto Community Center, 1905 Middlefield Road, starting at 7:30 p.m., instead of at the Chamber of Commerce as originally planned.

Paper money was the theme for the March meeting, and gold for the February session which brought out a record attendance of 75 to hear Ronnie Carr of San Francisco and see his display of pioneer gold.

Trends Of Today's Coin Values

How Trends' Prices Determined

By Jim Kelly
333 West First Street
Dayton 2, Ohio

From the number of inquiries received, it seems about time that we again explain the purpose as well as the method of establishing prices indicated in Coin Trends. Prior to the first issue of Coin World, a questionnaire was mailed to many collectors and dealers asking what would be of the most interest and service to them. Up-to-date information on coin values and the trend of values was one of the services most requested.

Jim Kelly

In order to give accurate and realistic valuations, we take advertised prices appearing in all leading numismatic publications, as well as from the many price lists received from different dealers.

An accurate accounting of prices realized at auctions is also compiled and the composite of these prices, along with experience and knowledge of supply and demand, make up the valuations arrived at in Trends.

These prices DO NOT indicate my own selling price nor that of any other dealer or dealers. As a matter of fact, in some instances my own prices are either higher or lower than those listed in Trends. Since there is a difference of opinion among dealers on price, and since some operate on a different margin of profit than others, we have indicated a "high" and "low" trend.

We mention this as some readers have mistaken the two different prices to be a "buying" and "selling" price. In some instances where we list only one valuation, it is due to lack of space and the condition in which there is the least variance.

We welcome any suggestions or constructive criticism that will make it more beneficial to both collectors and dealers. In reality it is the reader's department and we will do our best to give you the information most wanted.

Counterfeiting Of Coins

Unprofitable Operation

Recently a friend gave me a U.S. cent which he said was split by bending it back and forth. It was a 1944, and I was wondering if it was counterfeit, and if so how could it be profitable to make.

Joe Beck

Madison, Wisc.

ANSWER: A laminated planchet could have the effect you mention. This comes from poor metal. Sometimes the planchet splits before striking and we get a "thin" coin.

It could hardly be very profitable to counterfeit cents, although the same would have been said about nickels until it was done not too long ago. Many thousands were made and circulated before the man was caught and ended the profit. That is bound to happen sooner or later, so we can say that it is not profitable in the long run to counterfeit any kind of money.

I have been interested in the 1945-S micro dime. I asked a coin dealer if he could show me one. He did, and then I looked at my own collection and found one 1945-S micro and several other years with micro "S". Can you explain this:

John Fischer

Millburn, N. J.

ANSWER: Who knows whether they are scarce or not until someone has studied the matter? Nobody has done so, yet, except enough to find out they have existed ever since 1916, at least. See "Fair to Very Fine", March 30 issue of Coin World.

For the past nine months I have looked through about three-fourths of a million cents and have not found any 1914-D, 1931-S or 1909-S VDB coins, although I have found "semi-keys". Two weeks ago, my wife found a 1909-S VDB in Fine, which she had been searching for longer than I have. That "put her in orbit" for several hours.

An 'End' Clip!

The Lincoln cent, or what is left of it, pictured here was found in a Mint sealed bag of 1960 Philadelphia large date cents by John A. Troyan Jr., of Newark, N. J. He calls it "a clip to end all clips". Clips are caused when the punch hits either the edge of a previous punchhole in the metal strip, or the edge or end of the strip itself, which seems to have happened in this case.

One coin I have not found is a small date 1960-P cent, although I have found plenty of small 1960-D's. I feel that the small date cents do have a place in the coin folders just as much as the small and large letter 1858 Flying Eagle cent.

A. B. Snyder

La Porte, Ind.

COMMENT: Finding coins, as has been said many times, is just as much a matter of luck, combined with patience, as any thing else. Certainly it can't be knowledge or skill. So your wife was lucky and you were not. But we can wish it for you in the future.

As for the small and large cent controversy, there is much to be said on both sides. As you probably know by now, Whitman's will put them in the new catalogues and in the expensive folders, but not in the blue "beginner's" folders.

The 1960 small and large date cents are die varieties, without a doubt. The question arises as to which die varieties of any series should be catalogued or put in folders, and which should not. Who is to decide? Under the present state (Continued on Page 14)

Story Behind How A Coin Is Born...

Hans M. F. Schulman Tells Background Of Andorra Coin

By Hans M. F. Schulman

It was a sunny summer day in gay Barcelona, Spain on the Plaza de Catalunya that I met Emilio again. I hadn't seen Emilio for many years and noticed that he had gotten quite heavy. There were the usual Spanish embraces amidst the heavy traffic and a polite "un momento" from Emilio and he ran over to an old dilapidated taxi and arranged something with the chauffeur and turning back to me he said, "I must take this car back tonight to Andorra where I now live."

I was intrigued and could not figure it out. Andorra is about 300 miles from Barcelona and would he take the five to six hour drive back the same day? He told me that the only communication with Andorra is by way of regular limousine which goes every day in both directions between Andorra and Barcelona for an amount not much more than two dollars per person. There are no trains or planes and only a border bus between Andorra and the other world.

Yes, Andorra is a world on its own, high up in the Pyrenees mountains, it is difficult to reach in the winter and only from the Spanish side and even in the summer, the French side can be covered by snow or mist.

The roads through the mountains are narrow and the traffic is heavy and you can readily say that Andorra is not easily accessible but even so, over 30,000 cars or about 75,000 tourists swarm in the tiny territory to purchase the goods which you can see on Broadway, Piccadilly or in the Swiss, Dutch, Scandinavian, German, Japanese, Australian etc. shops for the same prices as in their home countries because no duties or taxes are added to the price of these goods in Andorra, a tax-free paradise.

Traffic jams and bottlenecks which make New York and Chicago blush happen on the one main shopping street where the total 12-man police force is located, completely unable to cope with the situation.

Eighty-seven hotels, motels, camps are filled to capacity and many tourists put up their tents on the beautiful slopes of the majestic Pyrenees mountains.

So Emilio became a resident. This intrigued me, too, because Emilio is a Catalan and it is difficult for a Spaniard or Frenchman to get a resident permit unless you marry an Andorran and these Andorran girls are in such demand that it is difficult to marry them.

It is the dream of many a Spaniard or Frenchman to live away from government control and to enjoy this complete freedom even though on a small territory and the girls, aware of their assets (assets of beauty and money which may be there do not count as much) are really difficult. So says Emilio.

However, somehow after waiting for many years (he applied about five years ago) and because a member of his family did a very good deed for the government he got the permission to reside, to open a bank account and to settle down and do business. Only residents can open bank accounts.

This is a strict order because the Andorrans are afraid that Spaniards or Frenchmen would like to hide their money away from currency and tax control in Andorran banks and they feel they could risk their independence by getting into the dislike of the Spanish and French governments.

I asked Emilio what money circulates. He suggested I take the limousine that night with him and I could see for myself.

Six hours took us over many mountain roads, beautiful countryside and many bumps but it was worth while. The beautiful Park hotel with its New York style steaks and cordial, modern atmosphere and majestic mountain view made up for the grueling ride.

Border control between Spain and Andorra was careful on the Spanish side of the border because Andorra attracts probably many smugglers. The passports were scrutinized. The Andorrans, however, did not even look at anything and waved only.

A walk through Andorra did not take much more than 20 minutes but it was like being on Broadway as far as comfort and shopping is concerned.

They used all kinds of monies, Spanish and French first and also dollars and Swiss francs and every shopkeeper was capable of figuring out the rates of each day like the biggest banker.

"Why don't you have a currency of your own," I asked Emilio.

Well, that was a ticklish situation. In order to have been able to keep their independence in spite of French and Spanish pressure, they granted currency and postal rights to Spain and France at the same time and the dual interest keeps their country from being absorbed by either one.

You want to mail a letter to the U.S.A. You can choose of using either the French or Spanish postal service or by using Spanish type or French type stamps or by using pesetas or French francs.

You go to the French postoffice and they will put French looking stamps on your letter with the name Andorra and your letter will go by car to the French border town of Bourg Madame and by train to Paris and from there by plane to New York.

If you like the Spanish service, which is more suitable if you want to write to Mexico City, you put an Andorran peseta stamp on your letter in the Spanish postoffice and your letter will go by bus to Seo de Urgel on the Spanish frontier, by train to Madrid and by direct flight to Mexico.

And you use money the way you want it, but you must say if you want to pay in French francs or Spanish pesetas. Even if you pay with dollars you must choose one of the currencies.

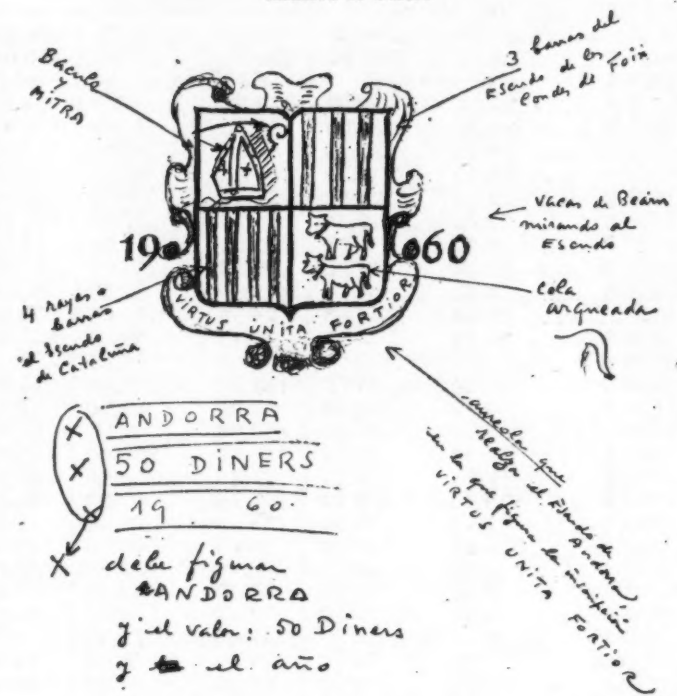

Once a bronze coin of 10 centimes and 5 centimes was planned by the Andorrans and struck at the Brussels mint as an essay.

This shows a reverse which was not acceptable to the authorities and you can see that the cows are now looking in the right direction.

Andorra 50 Dinars

Andorran instructions to the designer and how to treat each detail are penned here. Rarely are such details seen before a coin is in the hands of a collector.

Nothing came of a regular issue and these patterns are rare fetching as high as 40 dollars each.

"I would like the Andorrans to strike a dollar size coin and have the sole rights to sell it to collectors all over the world," I said to Emilio. "Was this ever done?" I asked.

And I told him about the commemorative half dollars in our country, and about the coronation coins of Queen Elizabeth and about the Monaco, San Marino, Liechtenstein, Egypt and other series.

We went to see the head of the government, which is the syndic (chief executive officer).

He listened with interest but it was new and strange to me.

"It would be good income to Andorra," I tried to convince him but he said to send him a written proposition which would go before the legislature.

This was done. After a while correspondence started to come from Emilio who received many questions from the Andorran authorities about what I really had in mind. Could I be trusted with coin rights for a sovereign government? Would I be able to advance large sums of money? They started to ask for references and wanted political and business references and also bank references both here and in Europe and they all had to be sent directly to the authorities and not through me.

A year went by and I wired Emilio that I would be in Barcelona again.

He wired back "Barcelona is a beautiful city and I like to get there, too, so I will meet you on our new skyscraper and invite you to lunch".

My answer was shorter. "I don't need lunch, I need contracts."

We met on a beautiful summer Saturday. Emilio explained that now was the time ripe that he could explain numismatically what I had in mind. A year went by to sell myself as a person; now a year would be needed to sell numismatics.

What about the obverse? What on the reverse? What about the edge? What about the metal? etc. etc. The artists and the place to strike?

I suggested New York, Utrecht, Hamburg, Munich, Paris, Brussels, Bern etc. etc.

He was going to explain but I should now give him a power of attorney.

Have you as an American ever wanted to give a power of attorney abroad to someone? Well, that is not as easy as it sounds. It has to go through the consulate but at the same time through their complicated notary system.

It was Saturday about 8 p.m. when we thought about the notary. No trouble for Emilio; we rode for about three-fourths hour to the outskirts of town and he rang the bell of a pretty villa. There was an impressive old man who took two hours to write out in long hand all the official legal data necessary for a Spanish power of attorney.

On Monday it was legalized at the consulate and on Tuesday Emilio went to Andorra; I left Barcelona for a tour through Europe.

Whenever I went I received long distance phone calls from Emilio late at night in Paris, early in the morning in Rome, at noon in Munich etc., and he wanted to know what "obverse" meant, or wanted to know what the metal "Maillechort" meant (nickel silver alloy used by England and France in their regular coinage). By the end of the summer he phoned to come by and to discuss the contract. I returned to Barcelona.

Another unacceptable design. Poor Charlemagne looked so unhappy that day. He burned his tongue. His porridge had been served too hot!

lona and Emilio drove down in the limousine the six hours ride and he showed me a draft. It needed many corrections but it was getting in the right directions.

December 5, 1959, saw the signatures affixed both in Andorra and in New York and they were published in the official state journal of the Andorran government with an annotation in the planned budget for 1960 mentioning the expected income from new currency...

Now the fireworks started.... Andorra forgot that they lived in the 20th century and that journalists are looking for news items everywhere.

Not a week went by and the newspaper published the story of the new coinage and although no gold coinage was planned the newspaper carried the news as if new gold coins were going to be struck.

Even in 1959 an American numismatist could not import gold coins struck in 1959 for the purpose of commemoration and not for the purpose of regular money and certainly such an American numismatist could therefore even less suggest such an idea.

The newspapers did not care. They printed it in Paris, Barcelona, Lisbon, Madrid, Zurich, Amsterdam, London and Washington.

The Spanish Ambassador in London saw it first and blew a fuse. How could Andorra suddenly have coinage rights? He phoned Madrid; Madrid phoned the poor syndic; he did not know what to answer; he convened "parliament" and they drafted an explanation which was sent to Paris and Madrid to quiet their moods and to explain that Madrid and Paris still were in control of the currency as was proclaimed in the 19th century.

Everybody settled down.

The budget was published and the journalists picked up the item of special income from the coins to be struck in 1960. However, 1960 went by without any coins because the life of a numismatist is not a bed of roses and much less when he sticks his neck out to sponsor coinage of a legitimate government that does not have legitimate coinage rights. Wait for what happened in 1960.

The New Year started and Andorra suggested to Emilio that Schulman start getting the designs over to them for approval and please rush... A first discussion with the logical firm should have been in New York with Medallion Art Company, the firm known to all of you readers who have seen the Kennedy, the Alaska, the Hawaii and other medals.

A design that made everybody laugh. It looked like the king out of a game of cards. However, this is how Charlemagne looks in the Museum of Hildesheim.

UNITED STATES COMMEMORATIVE HALF DOLLARS

Booker T. Washington — George W. Carver

I recommend these as one of the best coin investments today because...

- 1) They are coins (50c pieces) struck at the U.S. mint, not medals.
- 2) Most dates have a very low mintage.
- 3) This is one of the very few series that has not "skyrocketed" price-wise in the past five years and although they are now on the rise, can still be purchased very reasonably.

- 4) No recent collection of U.S. coins or Uncirculated mint set is complete without commemoratives.

of numismatics, there is nobody who will take the responsibility, nor probably would a majority of dealers recognize any central authority. Unless they did, there would still be confusion for the average or beginning collector.

Look in the column "Fair to Very Fine" for more on this subject in the near future.

In the issue of March 2, Coin World printed a story about old coins dug up in English gardens. One of them had Queen Victoria on one side, and a figure of a man on horseback on the other, with the date 1837.

Several readers have written in, saying they have just such a coin and want to know what it is. Among them are L. B. Buzzard, Huntington Park, Calif., and A. W. Blennerhassett, Lethbridge, Alberta, Canada.

Answer: An English source tells us that this is a "numismatic oddment" (his words) known as "Hanover Jack", not particularly scarce (in England, anyway). He says further:

"Such coins were issued in 1837 on Victoria's accession to the throne and were dedicated to Ernest, Duke of Cumberland and Armagh, who became King of Hanover on the death of William IV whom Victoria succeeded. Ernest was Victoria's uncle."

Victoria issued no official coinage until 1838, so these 1837 pieces must have been "tokens" and probably of a political nature. Perhaps somebody thought Ernest should have been put on the throne instead of Victoria, and issued these things to point out that he was going to Hanover instead of London. We will try to find out more and print it here, including whether or not they passed as money.

George Vosburgh of Chatham, N.Y., has written in about 1942 over '41 dimes. He tells this story.

"One evening, a couple came to Harry Ashley, Town Clerk, and wanted a marriage license. He gave it to them for a $2 fee. They scratched it up between them. Later, Ashley spotted the overdate on one of the dimes they produced to make the $2."

COMMENT: That license was an expensive proposition to the couple, although they did not know it, and since they did not know it there was no pain. However, the more collectors who watch their change, the more scarce coins will be found and the fewer re-

"Now, watch this guy! When I had a fruit stand he used to come by and help himself to apples and bananas!"

main unfound. What will happen when four million collectors all want a coin the total mintage of which was less than one million pieces? Reduce both figures and think of the 1916-D dime.

S. Z. Scott of Paton, Iowa, sent in a rubbing of a 1954 Jefferson nickel mis-strike which he is unable to classify, and asks information.

COMMENT: This looks like one of those cases where the die not only struck twice but was loose in addition, so that the coin has two rims among other things. We have sent the rubbings to an expert for analysis, and will report again when he does.

In the 14th edition of the Red Book, it mentions half dollar proofs without designer's initial. I have found half dollars in circulation without this initial but no book reference. What about this? Are they rare, and does anyone collect them?

Kent McKee
Pasadena, Calif.

ANSWER: The note in the 14th edition refers to the 1941 half dollar. The 13th edition has the asterisk at that date, but it was omitted in the 14th, accidentally or otherwise. On the proof die, the monogram could have been polished off, or one made that way. They are not particularly rare.

On circulated coins, the omission could be from wear or a filled die, more likely the latter. We would guess they would be of interest mostly to the half dollar specialist, but would be glad to hear from readers on this.

A.N.A. Convention Preview

Uncle Remus Re - Visited Through Wren's Nest Tour

Numismatists who attend the American Numismatic Association's 70th annual convention in Atlanta August 16-19 will have the opportunity of visiting the Wren's Nest, home of Joel Chandler Harris, author of Uncle Remus stories, according to Miss Margaret McAuley, publicity chairman for the convention.

Miss McAuley pointed out that Atlanta's greatness lies not only in her reputation as a great city, but also in the men and women she has given to make this nation greater. One of these men, Joel Chandler Harris, although not born in Atlanta, went as a young man and it was there he wrote the beloved stories of "Uncle Remus" and the little boy.

Born in Eatonton, Georgia, December 9, 1848, Joel Harris spent much of his time, as a boy, in the cabins of his colored friends. He educated himself by reading books he found in the home of one of his employers, a Mr. Turner, who owned Turnwold plantation.

The Harris family came to Atlanta in 1876 and here Joel went to work for the Atlanta Constitution. Captain Evan P. Howell of the Constitution, loved and admired him so he desired him as a neighbor and so he and Mrs. Harris, whom he married in 1873, moved to 1050 Gordon Street, from Whitehall, and called it "Snap-Bean Farm". Harris has often been referred to as the "Saga of Snap-Bean Farm". It was here he died on July 3, 1908.

The home is now a memorial, owned by the Joel Chandler Harris Memorial Association. (Open week days 9:30 a.m.-5 p.m.—Sundays 2 to 5 p.m.)

Many people have wondered how the home came to be called "The Wren's Nest". It all goes back to the day that his boys found a nest of wren's in the mail-box.

"Well now," he said, "You see that we get another mailbox, right away, we'll certainly not be the means of breaking up a happy home, we'll let the birds have it, and we will get another letter-box."

From then on it was called, "The Wren's Nest".

On a tour of inspection around the home one sees many things that help to awaken the memory of Joel Harris. His rocking chair stands on the porch, waiting, as it were, for him to come and rock away a few spare minutes.

Upon entering, visitors find the same mail-box in which the wrens settled, lying on the mantel of the library.

His library, where he sat many hours and wrote those delightful stories loved by children of all ages, is an interesting study. Here are the first editions of all his books, said to be the only complete set. Here too, his mother's Bible and the Little Testament she gave him when he was a child. Here the visitor signs his name in the large book along with those of people from every State and many foreign nations.

Crossing the hall, the visitor stands at the gate of the room where Mr. Harris spent his last hours. His tie, cane, typewriter, glasses—still where he laid them the night before.

In one room is a life-size painting of Mrs. A. McD. Wilson, lifetime president of the Uncle Remus Memorial Association. In the yard behind the house is a darkie's cabin and in a far corner "Br'er Rabbit's" briar patch.

ONE MAN'S OPINION:

On 1961 coins it may be said to be reasonably true that there should be more coins later in the year around November. Our prices will drop, of course. But, if you wait until November to buy, what happens if the Mint closes before then? The dies are changed? Metal becomes hard to get or is rationed for the Mint? Who knows what can happen? And, if it does, what price then can the man who bought today sell for? One thing is true, the rest of the countries of the world suffer from increasing inflation. They will need more and more coinage, and our diplomatic people are firm in their position that it helps our prestige abroad to make coinage for the smaller nations. The conclusion is inevitable, is it not, that Philadelphia coinage will be smaller and smaller!

Fair To Very Fine Both Varieties, Grading Dominate Column's Mail

By James G. Johnson

The mail is piling up again, mostly divided into two main subjects, varieties and grading, both of which I have discussed in recent columns. I think I will continue along the grading line this week, and let the varieties go for another time. Of course, there is too much that can be said on both, which is why books are written, and this column is no place for a book, so I will have to change the subject one of these weeks.

One of these letters leads nicely into the topic of grading, a letter from C. D. Clark of Akron, Ohio, who understandingly objects to the fact that in my March 16 column I called him "the late" C. D. Clark. He says he is very much alive!

At the moment I don't recall how I happened to think he wasn't, except that I read it somewhere but don't remember where. Please accept my apologies, C. D. For once, I am very glad to be wrong.

The particular connection with Clark is that I quoted him on grading (and have several times since the first occasion in my December 22 column), and he says he remembers the quotation. It goes:

"A 'Fine' coin is a fine coin".

In other words, you can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear, and a coin must be fine in fact or it should not be graded "Fine."

Apparently there are people who either don't know or don't believe that, or else they use one standard for buying and another for selling, judging by the letters I am getting.

Kenneth Mackie of Seattle writes that he ordered coins from an ad (not in Coin World) in the grades of F and VF. He thinks the dealer meant Fair and Very Fair, from the looks of the coins he received, and he sent them back. Regardless of what the dealer meant, there was no agreement on the grading of the coins.

That seems to be the general situation—no general agreement on given grades. And in these days where there is so much mail buying, sight unseen, agreement is a "must". Returning unsatisfactory coins is a nuisance, but the only other solution, since there is no over-all authority.

That method has been used for many years. I recall that Jimmy and I once ordered some "bargains" from a New York City dealer by mail. We did not like his grading and sent them back. We heard later that there had been many complaints about him to the American Numismatic Association and finally he had been "thrown out of the union".

Another time I ordered some coins from a dealer. I disagreed with his grading and returned them. He sent another batch, not much better, and I returned them. Then he sent me back my money, saying he did not want to be bothered with people like me.

One moral from this is that if enough people return badly graded coins, the dealer who is guilty will either learn to do better or go out of business. Granted it is a nuisance, but until a collector knows what he is going to get when he orders a Fine or Uncirculated coin by mail, it is a necessary nuisance.

Which brings me to this point: when a dealer says he grades by Brown & Dunn, the collector knows what he is going to get, assuming the dealer lives up to his statement. It makes no difference at this point whether or not we agree with B&D; the essential thing is that we know what is meant and what a coin will look like in any grade.

Mackie, referred to above, said he agreed with me in part on my B&D remarks, but that B&D is not the answer. He says that he will not buy from any dealer who used B&D grading, because in most cases they are "overgraded". In short, B&D's grading standards are too low to suit him, with the exception of a few series.

Kenneth D. Johnson (no relation to either me or editor Dick) of Victorville, Calif., agrees that nobody has improved on B&D's overall grading, but also says that they fall down in many respects, particularly when they use only the obverse of a coin to set the standard and overlook the reverse. He feels that is equally important, with which I agree most heartily.

Johnson agrees with me that a combination of B&D and the "Visual Graders" from Paris, Texas, would be excellent, assuming both improved their standards.

Incidentally, Eddie Dare, Elgin, Ill., writes in, berating me for not mentioning, in my column of March 9, the name of the man who put out those pictures, since I did mention Brown and Dunn and a few other people. (I didn't know his name, and still don't, but I suppose I could have mentioned the Visual Grader company, and at this moment I don't recall why I didn't.)

Mr. Dare also wants a combination of words and pictures, but wants Coin World to publish it.

"This (words and pictures) is what we all need, so the sender and receiver will know what to expect for their exchange, and thus make for bettering the hobby. What helps the beginner helps coin collecting; when the beginner is encouraged he is likely to 'stick it out' and have a hobby to enjoy when he is older."

I agree with Mr. Dare, 100 per cent, although Coin World has neither the manpower, the time nor the authority and prestige of age to publish such an undertaking.

I suggested in my column of March 9 that the A.N.A. should do it. Mr. Mackie suggests five well known and competent numismatists should get together and set a grading standard for all denominations and series. He wants an odd number to avoid a tie vote.

Then a book should be published containing these standards, with some sort of enforced compliance with them, as a sort of "Better Business Bureau" for the hobby of numismatics.

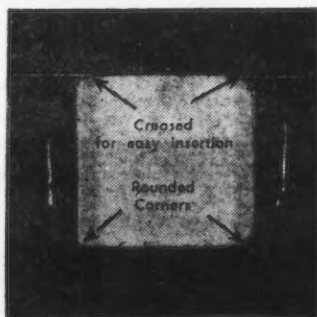

It is difficult to agree on that point, enforcement, for many reasons. I do say this, however. If the A.N.A. appointed a grading committee of five or seven top men, and they went over every series from half cents to silver dollars, and possibly gold to be consistent, and set up grading standards for all of it, they would earn the heartfelt gratitude of 90 per cent of coin collectors. The other 10 per cent traffic mostly in such things as 1804 silver dollars and patterns and don't care about grading below B.U.

If such a book was published with the prestige of the A.N.A. behind it, with pictures as well as words, the dealers who subscribed to its standards would get the business, and the others would not, and coin collecting would get its biggest boost in history. Collectors would have confidence in what they were trying to do.

Who can have confidence now when a dealer can advertise "1919-S Quarter VG only 9 shows" (!) or "BU Gem with scratch on face," or "between AU and BU", or even a 2-cent piece advertised as Good when it was covered with bold scratches and a sharp cut, sent in as a horrible example by Beverly Nagle of Covina, Calif.? The others are actual ads.

Medal Expert Slated

Mrs. E. C. Borgolte of Van Nuys, Calif., was slated to be the guest speaker at the March meeting of the Antelope Valley, Calif., Coin Club, meeting at the Antelope Valley high school. She was to discuss and display her collection of commemorative medals.

Pennsylvania Show April 30

Hours for the Schuylkill Stamp and Coin Club Show at the American Legion home in Schuylkill Haven, Pa., will be from 1 to 8 p.m. Sunday, April 30, according to Harry Naffin, chairman.

There will be about 15 dealers and a large exhibition of both coins and stamps, Chairman Naffin announces. Among the prizes will be a five dollar gold piece.

There will be no admission charge; dealers are to be given a large area with an electrical outlet. Any dealers interested in attending are asked to please write Robert French, 206 E. Union St., Schuylkill Haven, Pa., for further details.

Schuylkill Haven is four miles from Pottsville, Pa., and can be easily located, Chairman Naffin pointed out.

Pomeroy Boys Organize Club

The Pomeroy, Ohio, Numismatic Association, composed of junior collectors, was recently organized at the home of Mike Roberts.

Mike was elected president, Charles Kuhl and Lance Hart were elected vice-president and secretary-treasurer.

Election of officers was followed by a trading session in which several old and valuable coins changed hands. Other club members include Robert Gloekner, David Brown, Mike Fultz, and Steve Gorby.

Any coin collectors interested in the Pomeroy Numismatic Association should contact one of the members. Younger members especially are welcomed.

New A.N.A. Members Fast Way To Hike Club Score

By Dick Johnson
A.N.A. 17047

The success of your National Coin Week participation depends, in part, upon how many new collectors you sign up as members of your own club and of the American Numismatic Association.

The A.N.A., sponsor of National Coin Week since 1924, offers a heavily weighted point system for new members in the club and individual competition.

Ten points are granted for every A.N.A. application signed during National Coin Week.

Five points are granted for every new member in your local club signed during National Coin Week.

Many clubs have won first place because they stressed the importance of getting new members. So sharpen up your best sales techniques, let's see how many members you can sign up during April 23 to 30.

First. Have a sufficient number of application blanks on hand for both the A.N.A. and your own club.

You can obtain A.N.A. forms by writing the General Secretary: Lewis M. Reagan, P. O. Box 577, Wichita 1, Kansas. You can have your own club forms printed or mimeographed.

Be sure all the committee members have a supply of both forms.

The new member campaign should be under the direction of the A.N.A. club representative. If your club does not have a club representative, choose a chairman for this committee that is a real go-getter. Pick a salesman or someone with a lot of personality.

Second. Start with your own club. Ask as many non-A.N.A. members within your own club to join at this time. Tell them the benefits for belonging, ask them to join, and they will want to help out.

Here are the benefits of belonging to the A.N.A.:

Prestige: An A.N.A. membership places you in the outstanding collectors in the country.

The Numismatist: as a member you will receive its monthly magazine, well worth the price of admission alone!

The library: Members may borrow books by mail to read at their leisure and add to their numismatic knowledge.

Conventions: All members are invited to attend the annual national convention, a rewarding experience!

Directory: your name is listed in the directory, published every three years, you receive a copy free as a member.

Fraternalship: You join with numismatic students and collectors all over the world.

Third. To qualify for the ten points for each new member, the application blank and remittance must be sent to the General Secretary within a "reasonable amount of time" after National Coin Week.

Don't rely on the prospect to mail the application in. Get him to fill out the form, have a proposer sign it, and get his check. Mail all the applications you receive in one envelope to Lewis Reagan.

The cost is $7. Have the prospect give you his check for $7 made out to "American Numismatic Association." Be sure to explain to him that this amount includes a $2 admission fee; and that it will only cost $5 for every year thereafter.

The technique for your local club membership should be somewhat similar.

Invite as many collectors in your area to attend your April meeting. If you plan a special meeting during National Coin Week as so many clubs do, publicize this special meeting.

Then be sure to follow up by asking the new collectors who attended, to join the first night.

There are hundreds of coin collectors in your city who would like to be a member of your club. All they need to know is where and when it meets, and be asked to join!

Be sure you report every new A. N. A. member and every local club members in your National Coin Week scrapbook report.

Take it from there and good luck in getting new members!

Decker Series Will Aid Clubs

Clubs that want expert advice on "The Art of Exhibiting" to sharpen and define their exhibit plans for National Coin Week may consult a seven-part series on the subject, written by Numismatist Don L. Decker, of Cleveland, a top award winner in American Numismatic Association competition.

Decker prepared the series as a Coin World exclusive; the stories appeared in the issues of December 15, 22, 29, 1960, and January 5, 12, 19 and 26, 1961.

The public is being drawn into National Coin Week participation by the North East Ohio Coin Club, according to its chairman, William M. Halliwell, of Euclid. It will vote by ballot for the best displays (approximately 50 of them in the Cleveland Old Arcade). The ballot will also serve as recruiting material; provision is made for collector information and invitation sources for the North East Ohio club meetings.

Properly Prepared Copy Pleasing To Ye Editors

Since the American Numismatic Association gives one point for each column inch (measure by depth, without regard to width of the column, except double column, multiply by two), for any amount of newspaper publicity, this is one of the easiest ways to add up points for National Coin Week competition.

Newspaper editors and reporters are prone to do first things first, so if the club publicity man or woman phones, mails or takes in notes to the editor, and hopes he will write the story, it may or may not get done.

Such material has been known to get lost on desks that are already piled high. Even if the story (newspaper items are always stories, never "articles") gets written, some facts desired may be omitted or may be mixed up. It does happen, and everybody blames the club publicity man.

The best and surest way to get a story printed in a newspaper the way the club wants it is for the publicity man to write it himself. Some club publicity people are appointed because of willingness to serve rather than because of their skill or experience, so the following instructions are designed to be helpful to them.

They are directed at "You", the publicity man.

1—Type if humanly possible, double-spaced.

2—Put a two or three-word subject of your story at the extreme upper left hand corner; your name and address at the extreme right hand corner.

3—Indent your first paragraph near the center of the page, and about two or three inches down. Indent all other paragraphs the same.

4—Choose the most important fact in your material and put it first, without introductory words. The first paragraph, called the "Lead" (pronounced "l e e d"), should give the answers to the questions who, what, when, where, and sometimes why or how.

5—Keep the paragraphs short, 50 words at most.

Pictures speak louder than words, and the American Numismatic Association allows two points per column inch for photographs published in connection with National Coin Week, including headlines for the picture with no limits of space or quantity.

One good way to get a picture printed in a newspaper is to interest the picture editor or "art editor"—pictures in a paper are "art" to the editor, although there may be nothing "arty" about them. There should be enough interest so he will assign a photographer or camera man to take them unless the club is lucky with its own professional photographer. Many have this good fortune!

If a newspaper spends time and money to take pictures, the odds favor them being used. However, there is no certainty there, so if the club publicity chairman takes in a few pictures and saves the newspaper time and money, the odds are even better.

However, the pictures must be good ones, as good as the paper would take for itself or even better.

First rule about pictures is that they should be glossy black and whites—sharp and clear with good focus. Second is that they must tell a story, with the least possible explanation needed. Third, they must not be crowded with people or things, and fourth, the least amount of "posing", the better. They are not supposed to be "studio portraits", but news.

If the pictures are of people, they should be doing something, if possible, not just standing still and looking at the camera. Let them be talking to each other, if nothing else, or looking at something one of them is holding.

When a picture is taken to an editor, he should be able to look at it and immediately know what it is about. If he has to ask, then it could have been done better.

It is extremely important that all pictures be identified as to who or what is in them, in what order, and where the picture came from. This identification should be typed and fastened to the picture(s). Full names and addresses of people should be given.

If there are more than four or five lines of description with a picture, then the identification should remain with the picture and the balance be in a separate story. For that see the material on how to write stories elsewhere on this page.

Dolly-Maude Harris

Dolly-Maude Harris, general chairman, has been an avid collector since 1936. She started with cents, and advanced early into a collector of all U.S. coin rolls, currency, gold and proof sets.

At the present time she is serving as president of the Austin Coin Club, historian of the Texas Numismatic Association, member of the Temple, Texas, Coin Club and the American Numismatic Association.

She organized two junior coin clubs in Austin and is never too busy in her firm, the University Florist, which she owns, to give advice to the many boys and girls or to "yak" with any collector—appraising coins for them or buying a collection.

The nationally known floral design artist attended the Canadian Numismatic Association convention in Sherbrooke, Canada, in 1960 and the Boston American Numismatic Association convention.

Tom McCrummen Jr.

Award Chairman Tom McCrummen Jr. has served as president and secretary-treasurer of the Austin Coin Club; he is a member of the Texas Numismatic Association, the American Numismatic Association and the Temple Coin Club.

His collecting interest is uncirculated United States coins.

Assistant vice president of the American National Bank in Austin, McCrummen is chairman of the advertising committee for the Austin Clearing House Association, co-chairman of the finance committee of the Austin Citizens Safety Council, member of the board of directors of the Austin Symphony Society, Inc.,

20 Cents Scarce

There are only five different date or Mint regular issue 20-cent coins, and one of those was presumably melted down.

Charlton Brush

Charlton Brush, vice chairman of National Coin Week, is a practicing architect in independent practice in Austin.

He is vice president of the Texas Numismatic Association, past president of the Austin Coin Club, member of the Temple Coin Club and A.N.A. member No. 35907.

Brush started "saving" Indian cents in the 20's but lacking knowledge and guidance did not pursue the hobby. He has been an active collector since early in 1955 when he was instrumental in the organization of the Austin Coin Club.

His speciality is U.S. type sets which are housed in octagonal plastic holders by denomination which he designed and has custom made. He also designed a vertical exhibit case which shows both sides of the coins in which he displays the eight octagonal type set holders and 12 proof sets.

This exhibit won the cup for the "best U.S. specialized exhibit" at the Texas Numismatic Association convention at Fort Worth last October.

"Fuller," as he is known, is a dedicated numismatist and will spare no time nor effort to help a junior or a fellow collector or handle an assignment for his club.

He makes frequent coin talks before civic clubs and junior coin clubs and has had his collection on display for special occasions at three high schools in Austin.

He has been on the auction committee of his club since its organization and is currently chairman of the committee.

Class C will be for clubs with less than 25 members or all-junior membership.

The Individual Class category will be for all single entries.

Five points for each display, with additional points added for prominence of location, popular interest, numismatic story told by the exhibits, excellence of arrangements, labeling and presence of members to explain the exhibits.

There is no maximum points that can be won by exhibits and the monetary value of items on display will not be considered.

One point for each column inch of publicity in newspapers, including headlines, with no maximum per article, or no limit in the number of articles.

Ten Rules To Safeguard Coin Exhibits

Coins are almost never stolen from an exhibit. Collectors need not worry about their coins on display during National Coin Week if adequate protection is provided.

Collectors should not display their name (or address!) however, on a public exhibit.

Coin World has compiled a list of 10 hints for collectors to follow in exhibiting their coins. Here is the list.

1. Use the club name as the source of the exhibit. Direct all the publicity to the club.

2. Never use an individual's name or address on a public exhibit without his permission.

3. Choose a location for an exhibit with an eye for the security of the coins.

4. For store windows, check to see that it is not easily accessible from the public on the inside.

5. If you display at a bank, have the guard check the exhibit frequently.

6. Use holders that have your name on them, but if the name shows, cover it up.

7. Keep as many of your coins in a safety deposit box as possible.

8. In any news story resulting from your exhibit, point out to the reporter that your coins are kept in your safety deposit box and not at home.

9. Check your insurance coverage.

10. Don't leave your coins in an unattended auto when you are putting in or taking out your exhibit.

Good Copy . . .

in the order of importance, with the least important information coming last so that if the story should have to be "cut" to fit space, the most important material will still be there.

7—Try to keep stories short. Four one-page stories would stand a better chance of being used over a period of time, than one four-page story.

8—Put as many other people's names in as you can find excuse for, and SPELL THEM RIGHT. Quote an officer of the club, if possible, using "according to" or "so-and-so, president of the club, said", and keep personal opinion out unless you use "quotation marks".

Keep your own name out of the story, if possible, or the editor will think you are trying to publicize yourself instead of the club, or National Coin Week, and editors don't like "publicity hounds."

9—Write simply but correctly, avoiding fancy words you don't use in talking, with short sentences containing subjects and verbs.

10—Give specific facts, dates, places. When you are through read it over for clarity.

Two points per column inch for photographs in newspapers, including headlines, with no maximum per photograph, or no limit in the number of pictures.

One - half point per minute for radio time with no maximum or no limit. Spot announcements earn one point each.

One point per minute for television time—five points at least for each broadcast. There is no limit on the number of points earned on television.

Two points for special events with a 25-point maximum for each event.

Five points for each coin talk, with a 15 - point maximum for each.

One point minimum for posters, club bulletins, etc., with a five-point maximum.

Ten points for each application for membership in the A.N.A.

Five points for each application for a local club.

Up to 50 points can be earned by the character of the report submitted.

The report is what aids the judges in granting the points. Generally in scrapbook form, some develop into quite elaborate books. Reports in the past have been encrusted with medals, bound in cow hide, embellished with photographs, etc.

Fancy reports don't turn the judges' eyes, however. The most points win, according to officials.

FACTS

You Should Know About COIN CLEANERS!

For years coin collectors have searched for an all purpose cleaner that was SAFE! Many dollars were spent for products that made fantastic claims. At COINEW we suspect that many valuable coins have been discolored and stained in ways that brought disappointment and disillusionment. Some coin cleaners are good . . . no question about it; but we believe that many do not perform in accordance with the claims made.

Some products are falsely colored with ingredients that are absolutely unnecessary in the cleaning process. Some are messy to use and require extensive rubbing. Others are ineffective paste. Recognizing the need for a coin cleaner that was completely safe and effective, too, COINEW went to work and searched the nation for the ingredients that would solve the coin cleaning problem . . . once and for all!

We have found these ingredients! We have named it COINEW. It is so remarkable in its action that we are afraid collectors won't believe us when we describe what it can do. Sometimes words lose their real meaning because people are fooled by them so often. (Fantastic, amazing, magical, etc.) We hesitate to use such words even though they are truthful when associated with COINEW.

COINEW IS A REAL SHOCKER! COINEW is a clear liquid. (No artificial coloring to deceive). It is simple and quick in its action. YOU JUST DIP THE COIN . . . THAT'S ALL! Rinse it off and there you are. Filthy uncirculated coins once again reflect the bright frostiness they had when they first left the mint. But that's not all. COINEW does a dandy job on XF and AU coins as well. Believe it or not, it works beautifully on any kind of coin. Try it on gold, silver, nickel or copper. Even zinc coins snap back to their original beauty. What more can we say? You have to see it work on your own coins to believe it.

One dollar buys a bottle of COINEW at your local dealer . . . enough to clean hundreds of coins. If COINEW doesn't do all we claim, just return it. You will obtain an immediate refund. We know we are secure in offering a money back guarantee. COINEW is revolutionary . . . after two years of testing, we know we've got a good thing! You don't risk a thing when you purchase COINEW. You are simply making an intelligent investment that can pay for itself over and over again . . . because your coins will be worth more!

NOTE—If your dealer has not yet stocked COINEW, we will be happy to promptly furnish you a bottle at the regular price of $1.00 plus 25c to cover postage and handling.

Roman Coins Share Exhibit With Sculpture At Museum

An exhibition of Roman coins and sculpture will feature leading figures of the empire at an exhibit reported to be the first of its kind in the United States at the Worcester, Mass., Art Museum April 6 through May 14.

Pompey the Great, Julius Caesar, Nero, Octavia (Nero's first wife), Hadrian (one of Rome's most popular emperors), Emperor Caracalla (who killed his own brother in order to rule the empire alone), and Antinous (a youth whose untimely death resulted in idealistic portrayals of him as a Greek God) will share the 20th century "spotlight."

The 36 portrait busts and numerous Roman coins have been loaned by 25 museums and private collectors throughout the United States and Canada. The span of time covered by the portraits and coins begins with the first century before Christ and concludes with the division of the Roman Empire in 395 A.D.

Special lectures by various experts on numismatics and archeology will be presented throughout the 39-day exhibition.

Michael Milkovich, museum curator in charge of the exhibit and a specialist in classical archeology, traces the development of Roman realistic portraiture. Milkovich has prepared an 88-page catalogue of the exhibition which includes a historical introduction to the showing and notes and descriptions of each of the portraits and coins exhibited.

A two-day seminar on Roman art, literature and history, featuring talks by five noted classical scholars, will be given at the museum on April 21-22.

One of the talks "Roman Portraits: Gems, Coins and the other Arts" will be delivered on April 21 at 3 p.m. by Cornelius C. Vermuele III, Curator of Classical Art at the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston.

Burglars Riddle San Francisco International Coin Collection

Theft of a coin collection so massive that it took 54 pages of single spaced typewritten listings to inventory has been reported to Coin World by the San Francisco Police Department.

Monetary value of the collection, taken from the home of David L. Redfield, 2275 18 Ave., San Francisco, March 7, is $15,000, according to Inspectors Grant and Smith.

Nearly every country in the world was represented in the stolen coinage as well as United States coins, a large collection of street car tokens, ancient coinage and important personal papers ranging from stock certificates to the Redfield's will.

"If you have any information regarding these coins, please contact the San Francisco Police Department, SU 1-2020 referring to Case No. 652802," the investigators request.

Nelson Boyd, R. R. 2, Lafayette, Ind., reports his coin shop was broken into Saturday, March 18, and robbed of a quantity of coins.

Something New! Plastic Envelopes

Clear polyethylene, pliable and guaranteed not to crack or dry out. These long flap envelopes give maximum protection against chemical action which causes tarnish, spotting, etc. Coins can be displayed without exposure. Made to hold the large size Silver Dollar and most Crowns, but will still fit easily into a 2x2 envelope.

We are now using these for all our Uncirculated and Proof, as well as choice coins. Something collectors and dealers have been needing for years.

According to a report filed with the Indiana State police, a blue steel revolver was also taken.

Boyd asks that any information regarding the coins be directed to him, or to Sgt. Edwin Loman, of the State Police, Lafayette Post.

The loss included the following:

Eighteen 1857, 1858 Flying Eagle cents; 1,000 to 1,500 Indian Head cents from 1885 to 1909.

Lincoln Head cents: 1909-S, 10-S, 11-S, 12-S, 13-S, 14-S, 15-S, 16-S, 21-S, 23-S, 24-S, 26-S, 31-S (several duplicates of each date); 1911-D, 1912-D, 1913-D, 1914-D, 1915-D duplicates of each date); 35 1924-D Lincoln cents.

Nickels: Rolls (40 to roll) of nickels, 1900 to 1912; 200 Buffalo nickels, 1913 to 1927; 40 1938-D Jefferson nickels; 15 1938-S Jefferson nickels; 15 1938-S Jefferson nickels; six rolls 1939-S Jefferson nickels, (40 to roll).

Sixty 1939-D Jefferson nickels; three 1950-D Jefferson nickels; five rolls 1955 plain Jefferson nickels; four rolls 1958 plain Jefferson nickels; four rolls 1959 plain Jefferson nickels.

Dimes, quarters, halves: (Barbers or Liberty Head) 250 to 300 mixed dates and denominations; a 1903 Louisiana Purchase Commemorative Jefferson gold dollar; a 1887 gold dollar; (both coins in excellent condition); many, many other coins including about 150 Canadian.

Frederick J. Monteagle, assistant city editor of the Oakland Tribune, reports a series of stolen coin jewelry items taken from his wife.

Monteagle asks that any information regarding the jewelry be forwarded to Inspector Lee Lamp, Piedmont Police Department, Piedmont, Calif.

The stolen items include:

A dangling bracelet composed of a $20 gold piece, two 10's, two 5's, and two 2 1/2's. The coins are all Liberty heads, banded in 14K gold and suspended from a heavy multiple link gold chain. Two medium sized placer gold nuggets and a gold Knights Templar charm were suspended from the chain. The closure bore the stamped imprint of Morgan Smith, Reno, Nev., with the figure of an Indian at work at a bench.

A bracelet composed of $5 Liberty heads banded in gold and double-linked between each coin. These coins lay flat. The Morgan Smith imprint was on the closure also.

A bracelet composed of flat placer gold nuggets double-linked as in No. 2. This closure is stamped "Alaska."

A chain composed of well-matched California gold nuggets and two pendants designed to slip on and off. One pendant is a heart or arrow shaped large quartz gold nugget. The other is a polished and heavily gold veined flat piece of white quartz about an inch long.

A massive gold dinner ring with a dark gray oval shaped piece of quartz heavily veined with gold.

M. H. Bolender, San Marino, Calif., numismatist who was a recent robbery victim, reports that Loron Anthony Glann, a suspect in the burglary of January 14, has been arrested and is being held by Michigan officials.

The other suspect, Kenneth Gilbert Carothers, is already in custody in California, Bolender said. Glann will be extradited from Michigan to California for trial, the San Marino numismatist said.

According to Bolender a large portion of the coins were sold to a Detroit dealer, and the FBI are in charge of recovery of the stolen property because it was transported outside the state.

Eighty-two 10-centavo Mexican coins are worth about 65 cents. But O. S. Smith figures the man who stuffed them into the coin changer at his self-service laundry in Richmond, Va., got about $20.50 for them.

A total of $1,250 in coins and stamps was taken by a thief March 23 from the Buffalo, N.Y. Historical Society.

Nothing was taken that "cannot be replaced from our collections."

Police believed the thief was inside the building when it was closed for the night.

The missing coins were mostly from the colonial period of America; most of the stamps were commemorative issues from 1901 to 1930.

Four teenage boys were held by Colorado Springs, Colo., authorities after they admitted they had taken a coin collection from the apartment of Mrs. Marie Kaufman.

The Woodland, Calif., probation officer is in charge of four juvenile boys charged with taking coin collections from other boys at the Harried S. Lee senior elementary school recently.

A. G. Spaeth, of the Northville, Mich., Ajax Stamp Co., has reported a $480 loss in coins and stamps to Youngstown police following the March 17-19 hobby show in that city.

The coin loss included a 1909-S VDB Lincoln cent with two small depressions in Lincoln's neck (very fine otherwise) and the only coin which could be positively identified; 1909-S Lincoln cent, very fine; 1906 Lincoln cent, uncirculated, and a 1931-S Lincoln cent uncirculated.

Spaeth said the coins were missing when he returned from dinner; his young son at the table said two young boys had been examining the coins.

A Clementon, N. J., baker and his wife found their home ransacked and looted of $3,000 in cash including old coins, according to a police report.

Burglars raided the home of Joseph Kovalcik, Garfield, N. J.,

Thieves Rob Amputee; Blast Coin Shop Hopes

Letters and clippings from the west coast have been reaching Coin World—all with the same compassionate plea—to publicize Victor La Velle's plight so that "others who will care will see and read.... and many of us may be able to give help in some way to our fellow man," as one concerned collector described it.

The story, as published in the Sunday, March 19, edition of the Los Angeles Examiner, speaks for itself:

The sneak thief who took some sacks and boxes of coins from the home of Victor La Velle, 30, of 4254 Normal Ave., Los Angeles, 29, Calif., didn't get much money. Just $166.50.

But in stealing the coins, he also took something which has no market value for him, but leaves La Velle poor indeed.

Those coins represented every bit of hope LaVelle had in the world.

They weren't just money. They were a collection—small, but growing—with which LaVelle had intended to open a small coin collector's shop. It was a small dream, but very precious to him because it was the only way he could see to make a living.

La Velle has only one leg.

The other was amputated after an accident 10 years ago. He had a job as a packer in a steel mill, but lost that a year ago when the plant was closed by a strike. LaVelle's department never reopened. He's been unemployed ever since.

At that, things weren't so bad until a few months ago when he was involved in an auto accident in Los Angeles. His artificial left leg was smashed beyond repair and he hasn't the money for a new one.

But loss of the leg was nothing to LaVelle compared to something else he lost in that crash. His two sons, seven and eight years old, were with him.

They were both killed.

"I only hope," he told officers who came to his home to see how the thief had crawled through a back window to steal the coins, "that whoever took those nickels and cents buys something worthwhile with them."

"I hope it's something they need pretty bad."

"Something they need as bad as I needed the single bit of hope they were for me."

Alabama Group Forms

Coin collectors in the Greensboro, Ala., area met recently in the Hale County Courthouse for the purpose of forming a coin club.

April 10 To Be Charter Deadline

Monday, April 10, has been set as the deadline for charter members for the recently organized Augusta, Kansas, Coin Club. The next meeting is set for that date, at the Union Hall, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Up to the March session, the club had 22 members. Dues are $1 per year for seniors, and 50 cents for junior members under 18. Officers are Rex Rose, president; Albert Murphy, vice president, and Charles I. Merritt, secretary-treasurer.

Treasure Intrigues Magistrate

A Washington, D. C. municipal judge with a numismatic bent is still considering ownership of a treasure trove valued at $407.50.

Judge John Malloy had a bailiff hand him a gray vase containing 934 silver coins—some more than 100 years old—found by Leon Kanegis in April, 1960.

"Let me see those," the Judge said, his eyes widening a little. "I'd like to run my fingers through them... and never have I seen so much silver at one time."

Kanegis, 45, a Washington typewriter service man, found the vase last April while "exploring" the ruins of a building.

Interstate, which had torn down the building as part of the huge Southwest urban renewal in Washington, claimed possession of the coins on the grounds that it had been granted temporary occupancy of the property by the Redevelopment Land Agency.

Kanegis testified he found the vase after he and his three children had gone that "pleasant Sunday" to "look over" the Southwest undertaking. He turned the vase over to police.

His attorney, Stasia Hayman, argued that he is entitled to the coins under the theory of "treasure trove," a common law doctrine of finders-keepers which originated in Britain after the Romans fled from England and left buried treasures.

Interstate's attorney, Nathan L. Silberberg, contended Kanegis was a "trespasser" and "scavenger."

Judge Malloy took the case under advisement.

MINT SEALED 1961 PROOF SETS IN STOCK

FOR IMMEDIATE DELIVERY

$3.25 each; 10 for $30.00

Postpaid and insured.

All our sets are mint sealed. If ordered mint sealed with brown envelope unopened, they are not returnable. If you request, we will open the envelope to check on the sets before shipping, and these sets are returnable if you desire. Other dealers advertise 1961 proof sets somewhat cheaper, accepting your funds now and promising to deliver when your number comes up, your ship comes in, or when Haley's Comet again circles the earth! We have no quarrel with those who will buy or sell on those terms, but we wish to point out to those parties who accept coins rather than warm promises that our sets are for IMMEDIATE DELIVERY OUT OF STOCK ON HAND! ACT FAST WHILE STOCK LASTS AS IT IS LIMITED!

Kennedy Order Alarms Phony Aged-Coin Dealer

President John F. Kennedy's directive that American tourists should be confined to a meager $100 worth of duty-free purchases from abroad instead of the former $500 has caused shakiness in the Etruscan coin industry, according to a dispatch from Rome.

One of the leading shady characters who sells Etruscan coins outside the Coliseum admitted to an American columnist that President Kennedy may drive him into more exhausting work.

"It's a pity your president had to think of this at this time," the phony numismatist said, "because we are turning out the best rare, old coins we ever have. Much older looking than even last year's, and much lighter. I believe they'd fool an Etruscan if one happened to get out of his grave and come to town."

Willowdale Holds Banquet

The first annual banquet of the North York, Ontario, Coin Club held in early March at Willowdale, Ontario, was pronounced successful in spite of inclement weather and hazardous roads.

More than 60 persons attended, coming from Waterloo, Hamilton, Brantford, Oakville, Aylmer and Toronto.

Awards for exhibits and displays were won by R. Sauro, Mr. and Mrs. K. Bunnett and J. K. Curtis. Displays of English coronation and industrial medals were considered outstanding, according to a report from the club.

Highlight of the event was the presentation of an honorary life membership to Mrs. Louise Graham for her contributions to the foundation and growth of the club.

Clubs Merge For Exhibition

For the first time in the history of Nashville, Tenn., the Nashville Coin Club will combine with the Nashville Stamp Club for a joint exhibition, to be held in the Andrew Jackson Hotel, May 6 and 7.

The two clubs and their guests will hold a banquet on Saturday, May 6, at 6:30 p.m.

Detailed information regarding the coin section of the show may be obtained from Nashville Coin Club secretary, E. F. Luther Jr., 5005 Trousdale Drive, Nashville.

Varieties Listed

The 1960 edition Red Book was the first to include the open and closed "3" varieties of 1873 cents.

JAC DERSTINE

Box 384 R.R.1 Royersford, Penna.

"Now, if Americans can't take back but a hundred dollars worth of stuff for nothing, the bottom is liable to drop out of the rare coin market. I have a brother who sells over by the Trevi fountain and he is worried sick."

The coin-seller said his coins start at $50, but that he was not unreasonable, and would come down to 50 cents. "I have even sold a fine specimen for as little as 25 cents in American money during the winter when tourists were scarce and times hard," he admitted.

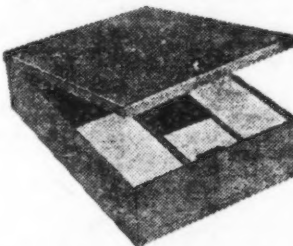

He was queried as to the scarcity of genuine spurious Etruscan and Roman coins, and how much digging was involved.

"Only in the flower pots in which the new coins are buried to give them age," smiled the Italian.

"I have a window box filled with fine specimens now. They're just about ready to be dug up. They'll be ready for the spring tourist trade—if President Kennedy's ruling doesn't make money too tight...."

The Romance of MONEY

By Ted Hammer

From the mailbag:

Q. Where can I obtain a book with technical information on the minting of coins?

A: "Know Your Money," a U. S. Treasury booklet, is obtainable at 20 cents from Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, 25, D. C. The George Evans book, "History of the U. S. Mint" once was reprinted annually with changes. Although now out of print, dealers sometimes have them. The American Numismatic Assn. library has several other works available for free loan to members.

Ted R. Hammer

Q. What can you tell me about a Hull half penny of 1791 that I have?

A. This coin is described in Seaby's "Copper Coins and Tokens of the British Isles." The coin was minted in Hull, a British seaport, Yorkshire County. It is not rare.

Q. I have a dollar size silver coin of 1696 bearing this lettering: MO: ARG: ORD: FAD: BELG: FRI. What is this coin?

A. This is a ryksdaalder of Frisia, which was one of the conglomeration of Low Countries, duchies and independent cities affiliated with the Holy Roman Empire or French kings.

People of the North fought the Spaniards and became the United Provinces, with the right to mint coins. One of these was the Province of Frisia (now a northwestern province of the Netherlands) and your coin apparently is one of those from that mint. These have been listed recently at $3 in fine condition, indicating the coin is not scarce.

Q. I wrote you in December asking you to forward the magazine with the article on gold dollars, or make me a copy of same. I have not heard from you. Doesn't my query at least warrant the courtesy of a reply?

A. Here is your reply. I simply have not had time to copy the three-page article bound in my magazines. I would have replied if you had enclosed a stamped-addressed envelope for that purpose.

Q. I have collected Indian cents for years but just recently heard of an overdate in this series. True?

A. There is an 1869 over 1868. An idea of its scarcity is found in the catalogue listing for one in good condition—$30 for the overdate and $5 for one from normal dies.

Schulman . . .

Medallic Art won the first prize in medallic art in a world wide competition in Madrid in 1951 and they are tops in the field.

But Andorra wired "Medallic Art not acceptable because they are not the U.S. government." Now they worked for the government at one time when the mints did not have any more time or room, but nothing could change their mind at this time. Later on you will see they changed under pressure of events.

Utrecht in the Netherlands would be logical for me but I happened to meet one of the German mint officials during that time and proposed Hamburg which the Andorrans liked. But Hamburg was not very anxious. I did not know then why but I soon learned. They made a price for striking which was so extraordinarily high that my cost accounting submitted to Andorra fell completely apart.

In the meantime they suggested that Professor Breithold Hinz started working on the design. This was done anyhow because it was necessary to do something now. It had been contractually arranged to start the first silver dollar or piece of 50 diners with the bust of Charlemagne and to follow up in the next years with two other pieces of 50 diners with other dates and other busts.

Prof. Breithold went to the Museum in Hildesheim and looked at a bust of Charlemagne; he liked his bust maybe because it looked like the king in the game of cards. Andorra did not like it and turned it down.

They suggested Breitholtz go to Barcelona and look at the busts there. Breitholtz had somebody visit the museum in Barcelona and sent him sketches and many months later when Hamburg and other mints had already turned down the order, a bust was produced by Breithold which pleased everybody.

But let us go back to Hamburg which, of course, had to be given up. Andorra advised in the meantime that Paris or Madrid should be avoided; also London was not advisable in view of the earlier difficulties with the Spanish ambassador.

I wanted to go to Utrecht but it was difficult to do by mail so I telephoned to Andorra. That is quite a complication. Emilio had to receive a wire first that the call will come in on the French telephone booth and not on the Spanish and to be there waiting for it.

Andorra has two telephones with the outer world and, of course, a net of its own which is free for the inhabitants.

I pleaded with Emilio to convince them to ask Medallic Art to strike the coins. Andorra sent a messenger to the American Consulate in Barcelona to get information on Medallic Art and four weeks later I can give the order to them.

But American law requires checking with the Treasury department and they said "not advisable".

And so it became summer, 1960, and no coins were struck for Andorra. In the meantime designs had come quite close to completion and interest among collectors for the first 3,000 silver dollars became so great that most of them seemed sold upon just striking.

I decided to take the plane and fly to Utrecht and see my old friend, Dr. Hengel, the director of the Mint. I informed Cousin Jacques Schulman who thought they would be excited to strike for this country of Andorra and he himself wanted to buy a thousand coins for distribution among European collectors. It all sounded good.

When I walked the 20 minutes walk along a breezy Dutch canal from the Utrecht railroad station to the mint I felt as if all was finally solved.

Dr. Hengel indeed was delighted; we made up an order and sent a copy to the Andorran government; price and delivery time were just as they hoped for and they sent signed orders back in less than a week.

Metal was ordered; the machines checked and the Dutch engraver started to make up the dies from the molds which were sent from Hamburg all in this hectic week.

I left Utrecht with the feeling "mission accomplished" and flew down to Barcelona to start making financial arrangements and get Andorran authorities familiar in detail with everything.

The sun was shining when I went into the old parliament house which was still in the same state as it was built many centuries ago. I sat on the wooden benches where the aldermen gather and I saw the chapel where in their full adornment they pray before each session.

One of the aldermen told me that "God is present with each session and gives us the decisions to make". How wonderful an idea and how good this could help in the United Nations. He laughed upon this remark.

I rode back in the limousine to Barcelona, still remembering his last words. "In October the five small ones meet in Andorra; the five small ones," he repeated, "and we would like to give each representative a coin then".

I did not dare to ask who the five small ones are but I found out later that each year "Andorra, Monaco, San Marion, Liechtenstein and Luxembourg" meet somewhere else to discuss their problems. This year it was to be in Andorra.

I was sure the coins would be there.....how sure was I?

I left Andorra and had left the necessary money arrangements with their bankers and I was accompanied to the Spanish frontier...that is 15 minutes car ride. A few weeks later a telegram from Amsterdam reads as follows: "SUGGEST IMMEDIATE RETURN TO AMSTERDAM BECAUSE MINT IN UTRECHT MUST SEE YOU AS DIFFICULTIES HAVE ARISEN STRIKING COINS FOR ANDORRA".

What difficulties? I grabbed the phone but Cousin Jacques in Amsterdam did not know details, just "difficulties," and so I flew back to Holland and walked again the 20 minutes along the breezy canal in Utrecht.

"Yes, we are ready for striking, the dies are half ready, the metal ordered and we got a call from the Ministry of Finance in the Hague" hastened Dr. Hengel to explain that . . . and the phone rang.

Dr. Hengel excused himself and started a long conversation from which I picked up "Yes, he is here now" "No, I want him to know the exact reason" "Sure he is very upset"....

Class Checks Relics

Sixth grade classmates from Normal, Ill., Oakdale School crowd around Steve Osman, in the checkered shirt in the back, to look over the 11-year-old's Civil War relics. The youngsters visited the Osman home, near Oakdale, Ill., for the exhibit. Steve's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Osman.

Steve Osman holds a converted flintlock rifle, discussing its finer points with a group of interested classmates. The girl at left is more interested in the $100 and $20 Confederate bills included in the display.

Electrotypes, Casts Receive Expert Airing

By Q. David Bowers

Congratulations to the Coin World for its recent Civil War Centennial issue. This issue will probably become a collector's item soon, if it hasn't already.

During the past week we have been offered no less than three different 1793 cents by three different persons. Unfortunately, in each instance the cent was an electrotype. One of these persons had unsuspectingly paid $400 for an extremely fine 1793 chain cent, only to learn that it was a false piece with no value.

Two of the main types of spurious coins often encountered are electrotypes and casts. These are most often met with during the study and purchase of early United States and Colonial copper coins.

Electrotypes are made by an electrolytic process, as the name implies. Impressions are made from the obverse and reverse of a genuine coin (usually in an excellent state of preservation) in wax or a similar substance. The impressions are coated with graphite or a similar conductor, and then immersed in an electroplating bath. Two copper shells are produced.

The edges are trimmed and the back surfaces are made smooth. The two halves are then joined together with (usually) a small amount of solder. The result is a coin of the correct thickness, approximately the correct weight and with a convincing appearance.

There are several ways to detect electrotypes:

(1) Weigh any questionable piece. If the weight is far from the standard, be very cautious.

(2) Examine the edge. Often electrotypes will show a fine line or seam where the two halves were joined together. Use a magnifying glass and check all parts of the edge. This test is not conclusive as sometimes the entire piece may have been copper plated, thus covering the seam.

(3) Test the resonance or "ring" of the piece. All genuine pieces (with the exception of those very few pieces which may be struck on impaired planchets) will have a clear metallic ring when suspended on your forefinger and tapped lightly on the edge with another coin. The ring should last for several seconds. This is the best test and one of the most important.

(4) Check the edge devices. For example, all large cents before 1795 have lettering or devices on the edge. Any 1793 or 1794 cents or half cents with plain edges should be viewed with suspicion. Note that the presence of such devices does not mean authenticity as we have seen numerous electrotypes with engraved or punched figures on the edges.

Watch for electrotypes especially when buying the following coins: George Washington colonial coins and medals; 1793, 1794, 1795 (particularly the "Jefferson head" which is often electrotyped), 1799 and 1804 large cents; 1793, 1794, 1796, 1811, 1831, 1836, 1840 to 1849 and 1852 half cents and 1792 Mint patterns.

Casts, as the name implies, are made by casting a coin in one (rarely two) piece. Casts are usually made in a base metal such as lead or an alloy containing lead. They are usually then copper washed or copper plated. Use the following tests to determine casts:

(1) The weight of a cast is almost always heavier than the standard weight.

(2) Thickness. Casts are often too thick.

(3) Traces of color. Casts made several decades ago often have the copper coating rubbed off in places. If the high portions of a copper coin have a grayish color, be suspicious.

(4) Often casts show small bubble marks or surface graininess from the mold.

PRESENTING A NEW KIND OF COIN BOOK FOR ALL COLLECTORS, INVESTORS AND COLLECTOR-INVESTORS!

UNCOVERED!

The prices of uncirculated U.S. Coins for each separate year since 1935! A fascinating year to year history of coin prices that will open your eyes! Learn what the yearly price change percentage has been on each coin. Many surprises in figures revealed!

WHAT WILL YOUR EXPENSIVE COLLECTION, YOUR COIN INVESTMENTS, BE WORTH IN THE YEARS AHEAD... WHAT ARE THEIR "MATURITY" DATES AND VALUES?

For the first time this priceless data is made available in "The Profit March Of Your Coins From 1935 To 1968." Here you will find a scientific and accurate scale of future values based upon what each coin has done in the past. Up until now such predictions were based on the mere pulling of a hypothetical figure out of the air. You'll see how coin prices change over the years, the price change percentages, coinage totals, projected prices from 1961 to 1968, comments on the future... on each and every uncirculated coin, roll, or proof set.

Reading this guide will leave you with a new respect for your investment.

You'll see what the prices were back in 1936, 1945, 1950... or any other year! How they have changed, startlingly, in the thirties, forties and fifties... and what they will be in the next four or eight years!

Up until now, the factors involved in coin futuristics have not been presented so there has been no yardstick with which to measure the possibilities. Now revealing pages mathematically prove that most investments in coins will, regardless of present confusion, produce future yields that will far exceed expectations!

Not only the coin investor, but the collector should have this guide in his possession! Collections have a way of growing and growing until they represent a tremendous investment. If you have such a valuable collection or have set aside rolls, you should know how long it will be before your coins are worth a certain amount of money... enough, perhaps, for college educations... travel... emergencies... or even partial retirement (it has been done). You'll get the answers when you have this unusual book before you. You will be shown the individual price pattern of each coin, the length of each cycle and the frequency of change. With this set pattern you can observe how long the upsurges and the downsurges lasted in the past and govern future actions accordingly.

"THE PROFIT MARCH OF YOUR COINS FROM 1935 TO 1968"

LEARN WHICH COINS ARE LIKELY TO INCREASE IN PRICE FIRST. WHICH WILL OFFER THE BEST SECURITY OVER THE YEARS.

Inasmuch as the past is but a mirror of the future, it would behoove any coin collector or investor to seriously review the past price history! Such records have always been available in other investment fields! Now for the first time you have the same opportunity! Don't guess or worry any longer because of a lack of investment knowledge!

GET THE FIRST AND ONLY GUIDE OF ITS KIND!

Depth Study . . .

(5) Casts will have a very dull ring or a "clunking" sound when tapped on the edge.

Casts are particularly often found of: Colonial copper coins, Washington coins and medals, 1792 Mint patterns and 1793 cents. As a final note concerning casts, not all are in copper (the same is true of electrotypes).

Silver casts with a deceptive appearance and clear metallic "ring," have been produced. When a silver coin is in doubt, check the edge. This is usually a good test as the devices or reeding will often be crude and uneven.

Recently cast silver and copper

Nova Constellatio 1783 patterns and 1861 C.S.A. half dollars were produced by a New York City "numismatist." These pieces are crude and have porous surfaces. The C.S.A. "half dollars" have very crude edge milling and are not likely to deceive an informed person.

Many electrotypes and casts that come on the market today are products of the last century. It was a perfectly acceptable practice to make electrotypes and casts to use as space fillers for otherwise expensive or unobtainable rarities. Such famous numismatists as Sylvester S. Crosby and J. J. Mickley openly made such fabrications, with no pretense of deception.

Unfortunately the harmless intentions of the fabricators is not

Kansas Club Changes Site

Monday, April 3, at the city Recreation building, was the new time and place set for the April meeting of the Parsons, Kansas, Coin Club, according to a report from club president Mrs. Wanda Cares, following a change in schedule and meeting site.

Permanent officers have now been elected, with two changes from the temporary leaders chosen at the club's organization session on January 30. These, an all-feminine cast, include:

Mrs. Cares, president; Mrs. Dollie Stuart, vice president; Mrs. Sandra Wilton, secretary, and Mrs. Irene Schmitt, treasurer.

always retained by the subsequent owners. Using "Caveat Emptor" these pieces are often sold as genuine pieces. More than once before, when the owner of an electrotypes was informed by an alert would-be purchaser that the coin was false the owner expressed great surprise, and then later offered it to other persons. To paraphrase a well known phrase, "If you don't know coins, know your coin dealer." Any informed and responsible dealer will unconditionally guarantee his coins to be genuine.

Our plea a few issues ago for owners of 1846/50 half dollars to contact us was without avail. Due to a typographical error it was reported that I had seen a specimen of this overdate, when I had not. This is listed as obverse No. 2 in Beistle's listing of 1846-O halves.

We will use other tactics, to wit: We will offer a $5 reward to the first person sending us an 1846 / 50 overdate half dollar with a convincing overdate and in at least Fine condition. We will photograph the coin and return it postpaid.

Reply to a correspondent: I do not believe that spending several dollars each for weakly struck, struck on defective planchets, etc. cents of the past year or two represents a good investment. You are just wasting your money. If you were a bibliophile, would you pay premiums for books with defective bindings?

Dinner Planned

The Mid-Hudson Coin Club of Poughkeepsie, N.Y., plans to hold a dinner on April 25 at the Anchor Inn. The club normally meets on the second Tuesday evening of the month at the Poughkeepsie Y.M.C.A. Thomas Welton is the club's president.

Ten Thousand People Visit Buffalo Coin-Hobby Exhibit

More than 10,000 visitors attended one or more days of the combined coin and hobby show put on during the last week end in March by the Bison City Coin Club and the Adam Plewacki Post Stamp Society of Buffalo, N.Y., according to a report from Show officials.

Contest winners in the Coin Show included the following:

First, G. Edwin Seil for "Misminted Coins and Currency with Unusual Serial Numbers"; second, St. George Donegan, "Civil War Tokens and Medals, British Empire War Medals, California Fractional Gold"; and honorable mention, Stan Cyrek, "Coins of Poland".

Among the exhibits was a presentation set of the gold, silver, copper nickel and bronze coins of the Polish Republic struck in the 1920's and given to the U.S. Ambassador, now believed to be unique. Another set was Polish coins of 1830 struck for the Revolution of the former King of Egypt, Farouk I.

This is believed to be the top and largest collection of Polish proofs and patterns ever brought together in one private collection. The Farouk set was purchased by John J. Pittman at Cairo, Egypt, in March, 1954.

Pittman conducted the coin auction held on March 25.

Giroux Heads Colorado Club

Ivan Giroux has been elected president for 1961 at the Jefferson County, Colo., Coin Club, according to a report from the club. Also chosen were Dick Radke, vice president, and C. G. Klein of Arvada, secretary-treasurer.

Next regular meeting of the Jefferson County group is scheduled for Friday evening, April 21, at 7:30 o'clock, in the Community room of the Rocky Mountain bank of Lakewood, Colo., at 14th and Carr, off West Colfax.

The club holds an auction each meeting, with members sending in lists of material to be auctioned 10 days before each meeting. The club receives five per cent on lots sold.

West Coast Clubs Cooperate

When the San Diego, Calif., County Inter-Club Numismatic Council held a joint session recently for all the member clubs, it turned out to be a cooperative effort, with each club taking a share.

In charge of exhibits was the Convoir Coin Club of San Diego. Ribbons were to be awarded for the best displays.

Forester's Coin Club of San Diego was responsible for the program. Taking over the auction was the Ryan Coin Club of East San Diego which provided a 75-lot sale with such highlights as 1852 and 1858 gold dollars, 1909-S Indian cent, 1909-S VDB cent, and an 1893-S silver dollar.

Responsible for special awards was the Imperial Beach Coin Club, while the Astronautics Coiners took charge of refreshments. Acting as hosts were the other three County groups, the San Diego club, La Mesa Numismatic Society and the Oceanside-Carlsbad Coin Club.

The joint meeting took place at Vasa Hall on El Cajon Boulevard in San Diego, the regular meeting place of the San Diego Numismatic Society.

Zebulon Pike Club
Goes To New Site

The Zebulon Pike Coin Club of Colorado Springs, Colo., has changed its meeting place from the Merri-Laine restaurant to the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers hall at 414 West Pikes Peak, and will hold its next meeting at the new site on Sunday, April 9, at 2:30 p.m.

The club holds two monthly meetings, the second Sunday afternoon, and the fourth Thursday evening, at 7:30. An auction normally follows each business session. Visitors are welcome.

Jamboree To Be Held April 29-30

The Tri-County Coin Club of Broadalbin, N.Y., has scheduled its Third Annual Coin Jamboree for April 29 and 30, at the Worden Inn, Saratoga Springs, N.Y.

High School Club Formed At Milne

Some 20 students of Milne high school of Albany, N. Y., have established the Milne Coin Club, which plans weekly meetings for discussing and trading coins, and occasional trips of numismatic interest.

First officers of the group include Joseph Michelson, president; David Skinner, vice president; Carl Rosenstock, secretary-treasurer; Alan Richter, program chairman, and teacher George Whitney, faculty sponsor.

Ohio Date Changed

The Clark County Coin Club of Springfield, Ohio, has announced a change in date for its Coin Show to June 18. It was previously set for June 4, and the change was made to avoid conflict with the show of the Columbus, Ohio, Numismatic Society, scheduled for the same week end, June 4. Information on the Springfield show may be obtained from Everett Snapp, Route 2, St. Paris, Ohio.

Texan Invents Frame With Mobility

W. Hugh Threlkeld, of La Marque, Texas, listened hard and long to fellow collectors at every convention and meeting he attended as they wished for a way to display their fine coins so both sides could be seen.

So he decided to make such a frame!

Now he has devised frames to hold currency and coins that let the money be seen from both sides. They can be turned over or around on their swivel bases. The frames hold 90 two by two inch coin windows; these hold foreign currency and world coin denominations; he has a larger frame for foreign crowns that holds 124 coins.

The inventor and his wife belong to the Galveston County Coin Club in Texas, charter members of the new Treasure Island Coin Club, Galveston, and he is a member of the Texas Numismatic Association. Mrs. Threlkeld is a charter Coin World subscriber.

The Threlkelds own and operate a plumbing and heating business and Mrs. Threlkeld sells coins and coin supplies in the store.

"We have met many fine and interesting people who collect coins," the Texas couple agrees.

MENTION "COIN WORLD" IN ANSWERING ANY AD!

Reach the MOSTEST collectors for the LEASTEST cost! Use a Coin World Weekly Ad Contract!

Sharpen Your Pencil . . . COMPARE CONTRACT AD RATES!

Here is a typical example of the advantages in using a low-cost WEEKLY advertising contract: Dealer John Jones runs 3 quarter-page ads within three months, each at the one-time rate. His total cost for the three ads is $132.00.

Dealer Henry Smith has used his sharp pencil and compared the contract ad rates. Result . . . he has a 52 week advertising contract! In the same three months, he has inserted 3 quarter-page ads and 13 Classified Display one-inch "rate-holder" ads — a total of 16 ads at a total cost of $133.20. Was his additional cost of $1.20 worth it? Which dealer got the most mileage from his advertising dollar?

Dealer Smith knows that, with his 52-week ad contract with a minimum of one inch "rate holder" ad appearing EVERY WEEK, he can run a quarter-page ad, a half-page ad or even a full page ad at the lowest ad rates of any coin newspaper! He also knows that he gets the added premium of the WORLD'S LARGEST PAID CIRCULATION among ready-to-buy coin collectors in the United States and Canada.

Dealer Smith has been busy every week "talking" to 50,000 collectors . . . identifying himself with a particular Classified branch of numismatics. Dealer Jones has been content to speak up only three times. Which dealer gets more business from collectors?

Any way you figure it, YOUR BEST BUY is a Coin World WEEKLY advertising contract! You get MORE SPACE to reach MORE COLLECTORS for SO FEW DOLLARS!

Medals Classified In Two General Divisions

Specialists Discuss Area Little Known

By Fred von Allendorfer and Gary Krug

The well known definition for "numismatics" is that it is the science or study of coins and medals. Hence the two major divisions of the numismatic world. The broad use of the term "coins" applies it not only to the circular metal discs, but also to pieces of paper, copper plates, rods or iron or to many other objects which serve the monetary usage.

Similarly, the word "medal" is not entirely restricted to circular metallic discs not employed monetarily, but can be used to refer to plaques, crosses, stars, or various other forms.

Realizing that the term "medal" is used generally for referring to almost all numismatic objects that are not "coins", there are now two other major subdivisions. All medals may be placed in one or the other of these two categories, but it is not always apparent into which class a specific medal would be placed, upon just a visual examination.

First and most commonplace: the so-called "Table Medal" or the purely commemorative medal. This is for purely artistic purposes, or to call the attention of the observer to a certain person, place, or event. This then is its function. Many coins also do this, but in addition function as a medium of trade.

Second and least common: The "award" or "Personal" medal, which is intended as a recompense for a specific person, class of persons, groups of persons etc. Surely these, too, may be artistic, are certainly commemorative, but first and foremost are designed to fulfill this personal connection with a specific recipient.

It may be added here that most of these award medals are designed to be worn on the person of the recipient, but this is not necessarily so. Thus, a ribbon, chain, or at least a loop attachment is part of the fabrication of the majority of award medals.

Others, such as the special U.S. Congressional gold medals awarded to the military and civilian heroes of this country since Revolutionary War times, are simply circular discs without any attachments. There have been instances where the latter have been privately fitted for personal wear, but this is merely an indication that someone wanted to remedy a deficiency.

Award medals are in addition broken down into five major groups or designations to indicate more precisely the specific nature of individual pieces. These five are listed below with a limited explanation for each one.

Orders or Orders of Knighthood. These are essentially badges of membership into select groups of honored individuals. The admission into a society, along with the reception of the insignia of membership, is considered a mark of high approbation.

Decorations or Decorations of Merit and Honor. A modern connotation, inasmuch as the person so honored was actually decorated with a visible sign of his honor. Decorations are mainly awarded for personal services or acts of bravery and/or merit, which signal act the person being decorated had performed.

In modern times it has become common to decorate men on a military level for the sufferance of combat occasioned wounds, although the person so decorated may not have specifically so intended it.

Service medals or campaign medals. Medals such as these are usually given to all those who honorably served in certain geographic areas, during certain periods of time, or participating in specific operations either military or civil. Long service and/or with good conduct are also included with this group. These may also be given for military or civil service.

Qualification medals or qualification badges. These are most commonly found to be awarded to mark the acquisition of some proficiency, of a predetermined standard, with skills, weapons, machines etc. Good shooting medals and badges are good examples of these pieces.

Membership medals or membership badges. Almost every society of any import, has some sort of device to indicate certified membership within its ranks, whether this be a medal, badge, or some other device. This membership in many cases does truly indicate or reflect the honor or the purpose of the group.

would differ from the badge of the order. The modern order usually functions within the operations of a national government or may be entirely independent of all national governments. Although a society may use the word "order", it does not mean necessarily the same usage as employed here.

Other. It is not our purpose here whether to dispute the fact that there are other medallic and/or metallic items which do not precisely fall into the preceding five groups, yet are still of a personal nature. Ofttimes, they are not even considered to have any connection with numismatics. Examples are the unit and rank insignia of both military and private groups.

The cap, belt, and Breast badges of the armed forces, police groups, firemen groups, and other governmental and private organizations. The specialist will find even more in admission medals, license medals, identification medals etc. Right now, these will be best left to the specialist.

It would be well to mention here and now, that the five main groups into which we have divided award medals, are not dependent upon the issuing authority. The pieces bestowed by national governments are naturally generally most highly regarded. This is so as the national government represents the largest group and the highest authority.

On the other hand, there are provincial, state, county, municipal, society, and even private awards. In many cases these latter issuances supplement the awards of the higher authorities and in other cases these awards

Utah Holds Mixer For March Meeting

The Utah Numismatic Society of Salt Lake City scheduled a special "March Mixer" session for their monthly meeting on March 20.

As a speaker, they had arranged for Robert F. Grube, U. S. Secret Service, special agent in charge.

In May, the society plans to celebrate its 10th anniversary.

are provided for those occasions where the higher authority cannot or does not recognize the merits of such awards. Lifesaving medals (decorations) are today awarded by ours and many other national governments, by states, by cities, by lifesaving societies, or by commercial concerns.

Another mention of some note is the fact that the richness of the award is not always proportional to the importance of the deed performed. Indeed, it is more common for gold medals to go to the most brave and the bronze medals to go to those rendering minor services of note.

The United States Congressional Medal of Honor and the British Victoria Cross are noteworthy examples of rather simple bronze pieces, or rather inexpensive fabrication, used as the respective supreme military awards of these countries.

The collecting of award medals is of relatively recent popularity. It is obvious that these pieces would not be as common or as widely circulated as coins and commemorative medals. Medals with loops and/or holes were the bane of many of the numismatists of yesteryear. Literature on this subject has always been scarce, especially in English. We hope that this series will help the collector or potential collector.

From Coin World!

(One of a series)

The firing on Fort Sumter one hundred years ago marked the beginning of the War between the States. As we begin the five year centennial of this historic event, Coin World joins in commemorating this event by preserving in metal the heads of state for both the North and the South: Abraham Lincoln and Jefferson Davis.

Bronze medals have been struck bearing the portraits of these two leaders. Above the three-quarter view of Lincoln and Davis appear the words: 1861 - CENTENNIAL - 1961, below, the words: WAR BETWEEN THE STATES.

On the reverse of this medal is a symbol familiar to 50,000 collectors — the revolving globe of the world, Coin

World's trademark! An entire series of these commemorative medals is planned, maintaining the continuity of this reverse. Each year, a prominent event or person will be placed on the obverse portraying a part in a series of American numismatic events.

You will certainly want to get the first one in this series of Coin World medals. These half-dollar-sized medals will form a companion piece to your commemorative half dollars, so-called half dollars, and other half dollar size medallic series.

Pirate Money... Collector's Items

PIECES OF EIGHT

and Pirate "COB" Money

There is probably no more romantic coin in history than the original "piece of eight". It was the standard unit of money among the bold explorers who settled and conquered the American continent and our present "dollar" is a direct descendant of the Spanish milled dollar, valued at 8 reales and also known as the "pillar dollar" or "piece of eight".

The term "two bits", etc., came from the practice of splitting the coin into pieces to make change in a money scarce economy. The resolution of June 22, 1775, authorized the first issue of Continental paper money, and provided that the notes should be payable in Spanish milled dollars, or the value thereof in gold or silver. Genuine Pillar dollars are scarce and high in price, particularly if they are in mint condition.

Some time ago a coiner in South America made a limited number of reproductions of this romantic old coin. These reproductions are extraordinarily authentic and contain the same silver content as the originals, which they duplicate in every way. Even some experts cannot tell the difference.

We purchased the stock of what is now a collector's item in itself. They are $5.05 each, and as the years pass they will be worth much more. Wonderful conversation pieces or decorative items and a must for coin collectors in this field. There will be no more available after this stock is exhausted.

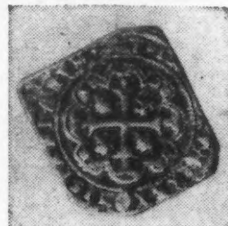

Circular milled coin, mint condition, or "cobs", $5.05 each, postpaid no C.O.D. Order by number as indicated by photographs on left. These are approximately actual size.

Revival Of Broken Bank Note Interest Brings New Writing

Most Books On Topic Are Out Of Print

By Hank Bieciuk

Quite often, people ask me about books on broken bank notes from a particular state. Although there have been a number of articles and books printed, the majority of them were written years ago and are very incomplete. Most of them are out of print and unobtainable. However, there is reason to cheer.

There have recently appeared a number of excellent articles covering the states of Illinois, Iowa, South Carolina and Indiana (a current one). I know of several others now in preparation. The South Carolina series of articles has been put into book form and I recommend it to all collectors. Too little, but not too late! The new greatly increased interest in broken bank notes will, undoubtedly, give us more of these fine articles and books. I, for one, hope so.

Now that I've cleaned that up, let us clean some notes. If you have a crisp uncirculated and UNSIGNED note that is discolored or foxed, you can restore its original brightness.

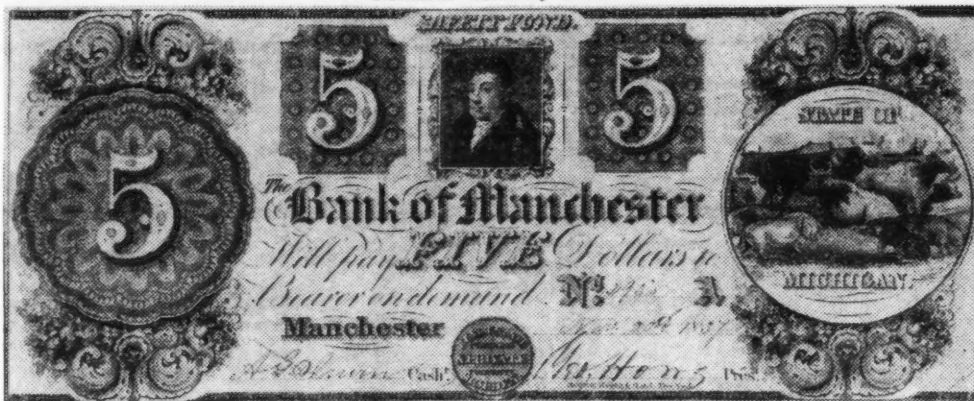

The foxing is brought about by time and the oil or cleaning compound used in wiping the printing plate after each impression. We shall, in effect, bleach the note. However, the only thing that will be removed from the note will be the discoloration. The original printed design will not be effected in any way since printer's ink cannot be bleached. Written signatures and dates can be bleached by the method to be described later.

For this bleaching operation, we will need the following: 2 pots, pans or dishes capable of holding 4 quarts of water each, Chlorox or Purex, clean heavy white paper or blotter, Kleenex and an electric iron. Fill one pan with two quarts of water, add two tablespoons of bleach and stir. Fill the other pan with two quarts of water and set aside. Into the water and bleach solution, immerse the foxed note edge first. Leave completely immersed for 20 minutes.

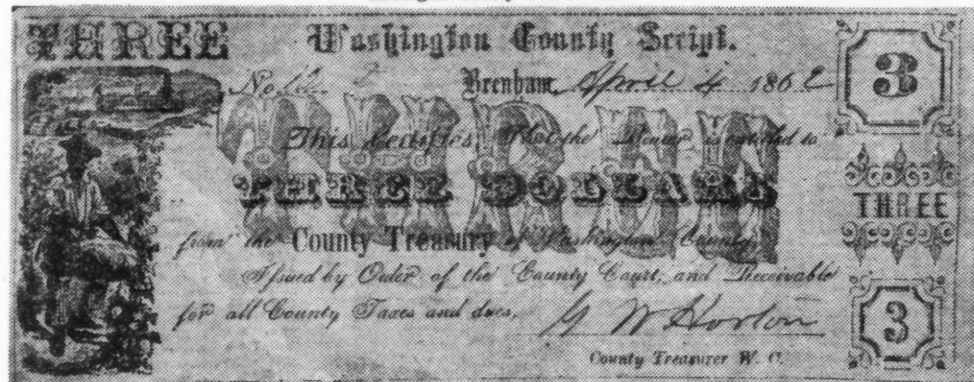

Now, carefully remove the note from the bleach solution and immerse it in the second pan of Clear water. This clear water will act as a rinse. After 30 minutes the soaking, remove and place the note on a piece of clean, heavy white paper or blotter. With a crumpled Kleenex, carefully blot away the excess water. Plug in the electric iron, set it at low temperature, spread a Kleenex over the wet note and you are ready to iron the note.

Carefully move the iron over the entire surface of the note. As the note becomes dry, after approximately one minute of ironing, it will have a tendency to curl. This is a good place to stop the ironing. Pick up the note, place it between the pages of a heavy book, and set aside for six hours or more. The previously stained or foxed note should now be as bright and white as the day it was printed.

Almost all of the circulated notes we shall wish to clean, will have penned signatures and usually a penned date and serial number. Although we shall use exactly the same materials as above, we will have to alter the procedure somewhat. If not, the signatures, date and serial numbers will be bleached from the note.

Immerse the circulated note into the bleach solution. Now, carefully watch the note. After 5 to 10 minutes of soaking, the penned portions of the note will show signs of fading. At this point, remove the note and place it into the rinse pan. The amount of soaking in the bleach solution will depend on the type of ink used in signing the note. Some inks are more stable than others and will permit a longer soaking time. In turn, a longer soaking time will, of course, mean a cleaner note.

Leave the note in the rinse water for 30 minutes, remove and iron as before. Not only will the note appear cleaner and brighter, but any wrinkles or creases it might have had will be lessened. Place the note between the pages of a heavy book and set aside for 6 hours or more.

The matter of cleaning circulated notes is an individual process, arrived at through trial and error. Some notes will be greatly improved and others will resist all attempts at cleaning. The factors involved—types of paper, inks used, amount of circulation, etc.—will govern the measure of success you can expect. However, the time and effort spent in attempting the cleaning, will be richly rewarded in greatly improved notes.

Almost Everyone Prefers America's First Family of Coin Albums

THE LIBRARY OF COINS

By Any Standard, Still The Best!

Complete visibility and complete protection, the two most-wanted features of a coin album, are presented for the first time by THE LIBRARY OF COINS. Bound like books, handsome and compact, each Library of Coins volume displays and protects its coins between two sliding panels of clear, tough plastic. Each coin "porthole" has printed next to it full data on mint mark and quantity minted. Each volume contains a brief background story on the coins, giving both the novice and advanced collector helpful information, including a listing of the rare dates.

Measuring 8 1/4" x 6 1/4", the volumes are low priced, sturdily manufactured, and permanently bound in a variety of identifying colors for the various denominations. Their compact size permits the storing of a large coin collection in very small space. Backbones are clearly gold stamped so that they are as readily identifiable as are books.

The Library of Coins represents the first major innovation in high grade coin albums in more than 30 years, and was several years in development. Designed by numismatists, the Library of Coins is designed to satisfy the needs and desires of numismatists. Write for descriptive circular on the Library of Coins.

We Present THE OFFICIAL MEDAL of The

CIVIL WAR CENTENNIAL

1861

The Coin and Currency Institute, Inc., of New York and California has been appointed sole national distributor of this medal, which commemorates officially the Centennial of the Civil War.

It will be available in both bronze and silver about May 31, 1961.

The medal, which is 2½ inches in size, is being issued under authority of the Civil War Centennial Commission, which was created by an Act of Congress. The medal will be struck by the Medallion Art Company from designs and sculptor's models that have been approved by the U.S. Government Fine Arts Commission in Washington, D.C.

As can be seen from the above illustration, the obverse bears the portraits of Gen. Ulysses S. Grant and Gen. Robert E. Lee. The reverse shows the seal of the Civil War Centennial Commission, having as its main theme, a Union and Confederate soldier. The medal will be sold in its own specially made container and will come with a printed, informative leaflet.

In addition to the bronze medal, there will be an issue of pure silver medals, which will be limited to 25,000 serially numbered pieces.

PRICES OF THE CIVIL WAR CENTENNIAL MEDAL

The official prices of the Civil War Centennial Medal follow:

THE BRONZE CENTENNIAL MEDAL....$4⁰⁰

THE PURE SILVER CENTENNIAL MEDAL....$30⁰⁰

Please note: Because of the limited amount, the silver medals are offered subject to being sold out. Those wishing silver medals should place their order now. Earlier this year many thousands were disappointed when their orders for silver Inaugural medals were placed too late. Because of the overwhelming national interest in the Civil War, it is expected that the silver medals will be quickly sold out.

The bronze and silver medals will be available about May 31, 1961 at your local coin and stamp dealer, department store coin counters, hobby shops etc., or you may write to either our New York or California office. Coin dealers or others wishing to carry this medal for resale should write to us at once for our terms.
